THEATRE VOYONS

Today will be the last of the showing of the greatest American picture of the month, "The Jilt," at Theatre Voyons. A quartet of such good singers as is at the Theatre Voyons is a big attraction in itself and when three songs are sung illustrated in the most pleasing manner and the orchestral music is the very best but little more can be offered in regard to that part of the program. Monday a complete change of bill will be made and new songs and pictures given.

STAR THEATRE

"The Big Crown musical act and Miss Marjorie De Windt, 'Mr. Bennett, Jeckey' and original of the sensational and novel illuminated juggling act, will be seen at the Star theatre tonight in three performances. They conclude their engagements tonight and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday two entirely new acts will be seen. The musical act is one of the highest skilled attractions ever brought to Lowell.

Tonight's show will start at 6:30 o'clock to enable the management to run the regular number of full shows and to seat its patrons. The four piece singing orchestra, talking pictures, motion pictures and illustrated songs complete "the biggest and best show in Lowell for five cents," which includes a seat.

The management of this house tomorrow afternoon and evening will present the biggest and most novel picture entertainment ever shown in this city. The soloists are: Mlle. E. T. de la Motte, Henry Curry, Frank Golden, John Dutton and J. Harwood.

Prof. A. J. Martel, the pianist, has arranged an excellent program which he will play during the display of pictures.

STRIKE ENDED

LEADERS BLAME EACH OTHER FOR FAILURE

PARIS, May 22.—The curtain was rung down yesterday upon the general strike, since negotiations by the bankers, who tried to throw the responsibility for the failure upon each other and the disappointed postal employees. The end came when a few hundred laborers voted to resume work. The general Federation of Labor then threw up the sponge and issued a manifesto in which they seek to cover up their real position. Explaining that the postal employees were over-burdened on the eve of the strike, they stated that everything was in a state of confusion and that the government, which was desirous of an opportunity for averting the strike, had been the losers of the last strike.

MAY FESTIVAL

of Day Nursery

The second night of the May festival, extend for the entire length of the gal- held in aid of the Day Nursery, which was last night, was even a greater success than was the opening night. The entertainment was all that could be desired and there were few idle seats in Associate hall. The entertainment was followed by general dancing and the bazaar tables, which

Mrs. Swan; straight whist, first, Mrs. George Caisse; second, Mrs. Pierre L. Broussard; consolation, Miss Bailey. The prizes were given by D. J. Ring, George L. Motley, Frank Hanchett and Arthur D. Prince.

The evening entertainment, under the direction of Miss Josephine M. Ockington, opened with a Spanish dance by Miss Mildred Thier, and it was pretty well executed.

The Misses Ruth Emerson, Miriam Warren, Florence Chapman and Marjorie Armstrong appeared in a Greek garland dance and it was most gracefully given. Clever little Mildred Bean, five years old, was the "Animated Doll," and she danced like a fairy.

The Irish jig, jauntily costumed, was a rattling good number, which was given with snap and spirit. Those who took part were: Douglas Buchanan, Bernice Russell, Marion McEvoy, Howard Robinson, Kathleen Stanley, Mabel Savage, William Atwood, Dorothy Colburn, Lillian Abbott.

Another hit was the Pickaninies, who were gorgeously dressed black children who did a regular Southern breakdown. They were: George Chapman, Della Parkhurst, Winslow George, Vivian Barbour, Herbert Rose, Dorothy Emerson, Morton Pickard, Esther Whitman.

Miss Hazel Chamberlain did an original ballet number, and was the center in the folk dance, a lively and animated specialty that introduced Miss Mildred Bean, Mildred Akers, Jane Fleming, Gladys Pursons, Margaret Clifton, Pauline Cummings.

At one time the stage was entirely filled with Scotch Highlanders. They were:

Master Warren Pickard, Misses Geraldine Barbour and Della Parkhurst, Master Elmer Hill, Misses Dorothy Bean and Josephine Higgins, Master George Chapman, Misses Dorothy Emerson and Pauline Wenden, Master Ray Richard, Misses Esther Whitman and Dorothy Hall.

Miss Esther Mulgrave in pretty costume, gave her Oriental dance, and Baby Chateau and Francis Caline pleased with their song "Meet Me in Rose Time." Master Willie Davis gave a capital imitation of Harry Lauder.

Then the program concluded with a highly original number, two Greek national dances by four men from the Greek colony in their native dress. Their own musicians furnished music for them.

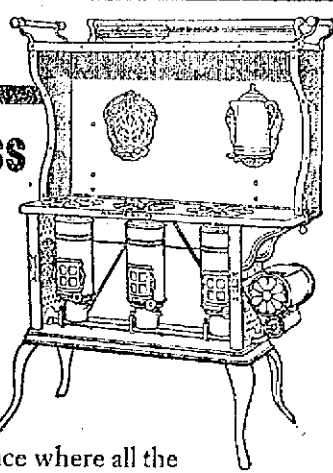

Tonight a special drill will be given by the high school girls, and the officers of the school regiment will manage the dancing.

Does Your Hair
Get Full of Dust
When You Ride
In An Automobile?

Much of the dust and dirt stirred up by automobiles settles upon the hair and scalp of those who ride in them. At the end of every trip an automobilist's hair needs to be thoroughly washed, but the common mistake of using common soap ought to be avoided. Common soap contains too much alkali and robs the hair and scalp of their natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and dry and the scalp rough. If the hair be washed often with soaps containing excess alkali, it is only a question of time until the hair begins to fall out. People who ride in automobiles, as well as those who don't, are strongly urged to try Birt's Head Wash for cleansing the hair and scalp. This is as good a preparation as present-day science can produce. It is made of Refined Soap, Glycerin Cocoa, Nut Oil, White of Eggs, Cocaine and Salicylic Acid. No other ingredient is used. Any doctor, druggist or scientist who knows anything about a proper cleaner for the hair will tell you there are no better ingredients known. You can use Birt's Head Wash every day, and your hair will improve and grow naturally. It is of great benefit in such troubles as Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair. Birt's Head Wash has wonderful cleansing properties. Wash your hair with soaps or Champoons as hard as you please, and then wash it again with Birt's Head Wash, and you will be astonished how much more dirt and dust will be taken from your head. There is no secret about this preparation, so no one need hesitate about using it. Why use secret takes and frauds on your hair, when you can use Birt's Head Wash and know exactly what it is made of? MEMORIAL DAY UNKNOWN BURGLAR

General Orders Issued by Chief of Staff Worthen

General orders for the observance of Memorial day have been issued by George E. Worthen, of Post 42, chief of staff for Chief Marshal James P. Emerson. The plans include ceremonies for three days and there are many changes over past years. Plans for Monday centre about the unveiling of the Lincoln memorial where elaborate exercises will be held in the presence of civilians and members of the military organizations.

For the first time in many years the parade will not form on the usual common, instead the formation will be at Lincoln square just prior to the unveiling exercises.

The general orders are as follows: Saturday, May 29, flags and wreaths will be placed on all the graves of deceased veterans. In the past pots and plants have been placed on the mounds, but too often they have been stolen.

On Sunday, May 30, many veterans will attend the morning services at the Worthen Street M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. J. W. Stephan having invited them. The relief corps will meet at 120, James A. Garfield corps will attend the morning services at the Advent Christian church in Grand street. The members will meet at the state armory and go to the church in a body. In the afternoon of Sunday memorial exercises will be held at the First Congregational church, where Alderman Wainwright will be the chief speaker.

On Monday, May 31, detachments from the three G. A. R. posts will assemble at Memorial hall, Merrimack street, at 9 o'clock. At 9:30 o'clock cars will convey them to the various cemeteries in the city, the Lowell, Old English, Edison and St. Patrick's. Post 120 will send a delegation to the burying ground in Tyngsboro, and on the way home a detachment will visit the burying ground in School street. Post 185 will send a detachment to Tewksbury in the morning.

The headquarters for the day will be established at the corner of Hale and Lincoln streets. All commanders of organizations will report there.

At 1:15 o'clock the three Grand Army posts, with the Lowell Military band, will assemble in John street. Cars will be taken to Lincoln square, where the ceremonies of unveiling the Lincoln Memorial will be held. The American band will accompany the battalion of the parade the American band will return to the armory with the militia companies. The Lowell Military band will report to Commander Planders of Post 120. After the parade this band will accompany Post 185 to its headquarters in the Cook, Taylor Co. building in Central street.

All organizations will report to the chief marshal, Lincoln square, at 2:45 o'clock. The line will be formed on Chelmsford street, right resting on Shaw street, in the following order:

American Band
Battalion of Militia.
Post 42.
High School Regiment.
Lowell Military Band.
Post 120.
Post 185.
Spanish War Veterans.
Sons of Veterans.
Carriages.

The formation at the Lincoln memorial will be in squares. The Grand Army posts, Lowell Military band, Spanish war veterans and sons of Veterans will form the center square. The American band and militia will form the inner square, and the High school regiment will form the outer square. Commanders of companies will insist on strict silence in the ranks during the ceremonies of unveiling.

Drivers of carriages conveying guests or disabled veterans will form in single column on three sides of the square, the leading carriage resting on Hale street, at Lincoln street. During the parade they will form in double line.

The general formation will be for escort in column of companies, all other in columns of fours. At the conclusion of the unveiling ceremonies the line will take up the following line of march: Chelmsford street, Thorndike street, Middlesex street, Central street, Merrimack and Moody streets, to Monument square.

The usual ceremonies at the granite shaft will be held here. The G. A. R., Spanish War veterans and Sons of Veterans will take their places on the sidewalk surrounding the monument. The escort will halt at Tremont street.

At the conclusion of the brief ceremonies here, the column will be reformed and move through Tremont and Merrimack streets, where it will be reviewed at city hall by the mayor and the city council, and later at the corner of Dutton street, where the chief marshal and staff will review it. The organizations will then be dismissed.

James P. Emerson,
Chief Marshal.
George E. Worthen,
Chief of Staff.

The commanders of the three G. A. R. posts this year are: Post 42, A. A. Thibault; Post 120, Charles H. Flannery; and Post 185, Marcus A. Goudrey. The exercises at the Lincoln memorial will be under the direction of Harvey E. Greene of the park commission.

BillERICA

Memorial day will be observed in an appropriate manner on May 31st by the town of BillERICA. The usual exercises will be held during the day and in the evening supper will be held in the town hall. The committee of the American Legion, Ladies of the G. A. R., which will have charge of the supper, is headed by Miss Susie Dolan.

The orator of the day will be General George A. Forsythe, U. S. A., retired, of Rockport. General Forsythe served on General Sheridan's staff during the Civil war. He was also a great Indian fighter. Killed by Posse of Young Men at Hyde Park

HYDE PARK, May 22.—An unknown burglar was killed here today by a posse of young men who had been summoned to the scene by Miss Hattie Foss, the daughter of the proprietor of a store, who was returning from a dance and who discovered the man pilfering her father's cash drawer.

Without disturbing the man in the store Miss Foss sent her escort for other young men and when the man dropped from the window of the store to the ground the place was completely surrounded and he was ordered to throw up his hands. Instead, he put his hand to his hip pocket where Archie Billings fired a bullet through his abdomen from the effects of which he died within two hours. The man refused to give his name, but said that he was of a good family.

Miss Foss and Clyde Brown, her escort, started home from the dance about 11 a. m. and as they approached the store of George Foss they saw in the dim rays of the lamp in the store the form of a man bending over the cash drawer.

Miss Foss with considerable presence of mind told Brown to go back and get the other young men at the dance while she remained watching the burglar. Within a few minutes half a dozen young men had arrived themselves and surrounded the store. They had not long to wait. Raising a window the man dropped to the street and started in the direction of Mr. Billings. The night was dark and the lights of the town had been turned off, but Billings could see the man and when he was a short distance off he ordered him to halt and throw up his hands. Billings said the man reached around as if to draw a revolver from his hip pocket and he immediately fired. The man dropped with a groan and the young men carried him into Mr. Foss' house and summoned two doctors. It was found that the bullet had passed through his abdomen and that nothing could be done to save his life. He was asked to give his name or those of his relatives and friends, but he refused, although his critical condition was impressed upon him. He died at 11 p. m.

The contents of the cash drawer and several other articles as well as a burglar's tools were found in the man's pockets.

State's Attorney Morris investigated the case this forenoon but accepted young Billings' version of the shooting and the latter was not taken into custody.

Miss Foss is about twenty years of age.

WILDER CASE

Jury Gives Verdicts of $1000 and $100

The jury in the case of Marie and George H. Wilder vs. Boston & Maine for $20,000 and $10,000 damages, respectively, for injuries received in a collision at Springfield returned verdicts of $1000 for the wife and $100 for the husband. In this case the defendants admitted their liability and the suit was brought on the question of damages. Lawyer Sherman of the firm of Coakley and Sherman appeared for the plaintiff and Trull and Vior for the defendants. The case went to the jury yesterday morning and the verdict was returned before afternoon adjournment. The case was very stubbornly fought on both sides and the verdict was regarded as a victory by both sides.

When the case of Marieau vs. Desmarais is finished in superior court on Monday another case against the Boston & Maine will go on and the jury at the outset will take a trip to a point just below Wilmington where the accident occurred, to view the scene. It has been decided to take the jurors to Wilmington in a special electric car so that they may have some comfort and the privilege of a smoke. A juror's life is not the same that some would imagine and they look forward to any opportunity to get a little fresh air and the inevitable smoke.

POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET IN COURT THIS MORNING

Joseph Primeau, whose thirst for food and drink has caused him to neglect his wife and family, appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on two complaints, one charging him with neglecting to provide for his wife and the other threatening his wife. He pleaded guilty to both complaints.

Mrs. Nellie Primeau, the wife, testified that she has four children and has to work in the mill every day in order to support her little family. She is able to make but $5.65 a week and this is not sufficient to provide for the family and she has to get assistance from her mother from time to time.

She said that her husband did not work, though he was able to do so and is a good workman when sober. She said that despite the fact that he has no money he manages to secure drink and is drunk two or three times a week.

Mrs. Primeau testified that her husband threatened to kill her. She said that she was afraid that he might do so and for that reason had him arrested.

Primeau, who has been before the court on several previous occasions, told the court that he was given another chance he would take the pledge and go to work Monday morning. Mrs. Primeau stated that she would be willing to give her husband a trial if he would promise to do better in the future. Judge Hadley thought that a few days rest in jail would do him good. Primeau's case was continued for two weeks. He will remain in jail until next Saturday morning and then if he is willing to promise to do better the court will place him on probation.

Drunk Offenders

There were two first offenders who were fined $2 each and five simple drunks were released.

THE HEARING

Continued

Later Yesterday Afternoon

Mayor Brown was considerably perturbed when he adjourned his hearing last evening. He had tried to have Mr. Stearns answer a question that was foreign to the charges, and Mr. Bent advised Mr. Stearns not to answer.

The mayor's question was as follows: It appears on the record, 120. Before granting licenses, Mr. Stearns, for the sale of intoxicating liquors and common victuals, in 1908, did you in March or April send written notices to the owners of real estate abutting on the premises where, at the time of the application, there were no licenses for such sales, in accordance with chapter 283, act of 1907?

Mr. Bent—"I object to the question. There is no such charge."

The mayor—"I direct the witness to answer the question."

Mr. Bent—"I direct him not to, on the ground that it is not in the charges."

Mr. Bent—"This is in the line of their duty and he can answer that question yes or no."

Mr. Bent—"Of course he can; but it is not in the charges."

The mayor—"That does not matter. I have the right to question anything I wish. I reserve the right to ask and question up to March 17. Now I will ask the stenographer to read that question."

The question was repeated and Mr. Bent reiterated his objection, that it was not included in any charges.

The mayor—"I will overrule your objection. It is in accordance with their duty, and I direct you, Frank K. Stearns, to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"I direct you not to answer that question, Mr. Stearns. What is your answer?"

Mr. Bent—"He will not answer."

The mayor—"Mr. Stearns, you heard my directions; what is your answer?"

Mr. Bent—"Pause a moment, Mr. Witness. I refer to page 1258 of this record. When Your Honor's private secretary was on the stand, I asked him a question and he said, 'I won't answer that question.' I asked Your Honor to order that that question be answered. Your Honor said, 'I do not see it.' Mr. Bent, where I have any power to compel the witness to answer? I stand on Your Honor's ruling now."

The mayor—"This is a member of the board of police who is answering charges, and I am asking for that information, and what is your answer?"

Mr. Bent—"He declines to answer, under my direction."

The mayor—"I will not consider that, Mr. Bent; it is a matter between the mayor and the commissioner."

Mr. Bent—"No, Your Honor; it is a matter between the mayor and the commissioners, under the charges, and under Your Honor's ruling that Your Honor cannot compel a witness to answer. I direct the witness not to answer, because the question is not competent under the pleadings in this case. If Your Honor cannot compel your private secretary to answer, you cannot compel this witness."

The mayor—"This is a different matter entirely. We will not have any further discussion. These commissioners are before me, and I make an inquiry as to whether or not they have fulfilled their duty as police commissioners. I am asking whether or not they are not limited entirely to charges, in a hearing of this kind."

Mr. Bent—"I think we are, absolutely."

The mayor—"I do not think it will be necessary to prolong this inquiry. The responsibility will be upon the chairman of the board, I direct you, Mr. Stearns, to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"I direct you not to."

The mayor—"Mr. Stearns, do you hear?"

Mr. Stearns—"Of course I hear you. By advice of my counsel, I decline to answer."

The mayor—"I do not accept that, I direct you to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"You may sit down, Mr. Stearns."

The mayor—"There is no reason why the commissioner cannot answer the question. I think you are going a little far, Mr. Bent, when you direct this commissioner, before me on charges, and deny me the right to ask any question of their acts as commissioners. I have the right."

Mr. Bent—"I am absolutely certain that the question Your Honor asks is wrong and under Your Honor's previous ruling that Your Honor cannot compel a witness to answer, I reserve the right to direct him not to answer, and Your Honor cannot compel him."

The mayor—"We will have no argument. We will not the chairman of the board of police for the last time to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"He will not answer it."

The mayor—"Mr. Stearns, do you hear me?"

Mr. Stearns—"My hearing is still good, Mr. Mayor."

The mayor—"Do you decline to answer that question, yes or no?"

Mr. Stearns—"By advice of my counsel, I must decline to answer."

The mayor—"This hearing stands adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

Smith department store and scores of office suites, was practically destroyed by fire early today with a loss estimated at $400,000. The south wall of the structure fell to the ground, crushing beneath it two frame buildings. A large number of people awakened just in time, were rescued from the houses by the police and firemen.

CHILD MAY DIE

She Poured Kerosene Oil On Fire

ASHLAND, N. H., May 22.—One of the most pitiful accidents which has occurred there for many years happened last evening at Holderness.

The clothing of their 13-year-old daughter, Gertrude Adelle Dorey, while she was pouring kerosene oil on the fire, became ignited and she is not expected to live.

Mrs. Dorey says she went to the post office after the mail and on the way back stopped at the store of N. B. Whitten to buy groceries. Upon coming out she heard her daughter screaming. Running home she was horrified to see at the top of the stairs her daughter with her clothes on a mass of flames.

She tore what clothing there remained on the child off of her. She then telephoned for aid. Doctors found that the child was fatally burned.

It is thought that Gertrude, who was left ironing by her mother, poured kerosene upon the hot ashes in the stove. The kerosene can was found in the middle of the kitchen floor, with the bottom blown out and the spout blown off.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

HOLY NAME OF ST. PATRICK'S TO HOLD CELEBRATION

Tomorrow morning the silver anniversary of the organizing of the Holy Name society in St. Patrick's church will be observed. For the past several weeks the committee on arrangements for the event has been formulating plans. A solemn high mass will be celebrated in the church at eleven o'clock.

In connection with this observance the spiritual director of the society has secured the services of the eloquent Jesuit missionary, Father O'Kane, S. J., a past president of Holy Cross college, to deliver the sermon.

The grand total of 600 members it is expected will be present at the service and the entire south aisle of the church will be reserved for them. The mass will be celebrated by Rev. Jos. C. Tin, the spiritual director of the society, to whose energetic efforts the flourishing condition in which the society is at the present is due.

The choir of the church will be present and a musical program suiting the occasion will be carried out. Hymns of the Holy Name will be the feature of the processional and recessional, sung by the Sanctuary choir. Vespers will be conducted in the evening at the usual hour with special music.

ST. PETER'S HOLY NAME

The whist party committee of St. Peter's Holy Name society held another meeting last evening and completed plans for the whist party at Lincoln hall on Tuesday evening next. It was reported that the sale of tickets indicates a fine crowd. The committee has set apart several rooms on the second floor of Lincoln hall for whist, while in the main hall dancing will be enjoyed to the music of the Colonial orchestra. As this is the initial effort of the society in a social way, extraordinary efforts are being made for a successful party. In the fall it is planned to hold a grand minstrel show on an elaborate scale never before attempted in Lowell.

OUT ON STRIKE

PARIS, May 22.—Although the General Federation of Labor decided yesterday to call off the strike, the sailors, dockers and stewards of the merchant marine have gone out at Marseilles, Toulon and Havre, and the movement is likely to extend to other French ports. The grievances of these men are of long standing. They include the non-application to them of the weekly day of rest law; equalization of salaries on passenger freight boats and objection to being paid off when a ship has been out of commission less than a month.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SUPPER

A very successful entertainment and supper was held in Middlesex tavern by the ladies and members of the Peoples church Friday evening. Too much praise cannot be given to the excellent menu which was rendered, by Miss McKnight as a reader for the subject, "Mice at Play" and "Green Mountain Justice." A song entitled "Meet Me in Rosetown, Rosie," sung by Miss Megger Haynes, was heartily enjoyed by all. A recitation by Miss Alma Staples entitled "A Little Light" was pleasing to all. A recitation entitled "When the Minister Comes to Tea" was given by Miss Thelma Dyer.

Mrs. Alma Mitchell had charge of the dining room, assisted by Mrs. Frank Dyer, Mrs. George A. Lind, Mrs. Ice cream and cake were served after the entertainment.

The funeral services left the Rogers home at 2.30 a. m. and proceeded to the church of the Messiah where the Rev. Dr. Robert Collier, pastor emeritus, a friend of the dead capitalist, conducted the funeral service according to the Unitarian form. During the services a quartet from the Men-Johnson Glee club sang several selections, including the hymns of "Lead Me Kindly Light," "Fearer, My God, to Thee" and "Abide With Me."

On the list of pallbearers were the names of William B. Collier, John D. Arnold, E. T. Bedford and James L. Moffett of the Standard Oil Co.; Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Train), E. H. Harriman, Elbert L. THE WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

Considerable advances are being made in wireless telegraphy. The latest discovery announced is that of "singing sparks" or musical messages, which means that the vibrations are sent out in the form of pure musical tones capable of being caught by the receiver in either how softly attuned. By this method it is also stated communication can be maintained in spite of the most violent atmospheric disturbance and the sparks on their passage through the air are entirely noiseless. This new discovery, it is believed, will result in the establishment of a wireless telephone system. So great are the possibilities of the wireless electric waves that the ultimate success of the discovery is probably beyond human imagination at the present time.

BOSTON CHARTER BILL.

The Boston charter bill has been reported to the legislature and will probably be enacted. It is based upon the recommendations of the finance commission that recently probed the workings of the Boston city government.

The bill has a referendum attached and among the more important questions to be decided by the people will be whether the mayor will have a two or a four year term, and whether the nominations will be made by direct vote of the people or by the old method of nominating conventions. We are not acquainted with the views of Boston citizens upon the matter of direct nomination, but we do know the general effect of the Luce law is to put incompetent men in office. It has proved a detriment wherever it has been used in the cities of this state, it has had the effect of preventing capable and desirable men from seeking office and it has inspired a lot of undesirable and incompetent men with a mania for political office. Tickets have been put up by direct nomination under the Luce law that could never procure a nomination from a convention of intelligent delegates. That is why we believe that it would be better for Boston and other cities to go back to the old method of having nominations made by conventions of delegates duly elected by the people.

PROPOSITION TO DEGRADE THE PULPIT.

The New York bureau of municipal research has done much good in bringing to public attention many of the abuses, financial and otherwise, that have existed for many years. Its latest proposition is, that on two Sundays, May 23rd and 30th, the church pulpits be given up to a discussion of the budget, or the appropriations for the ensuing year. It is alleged in a circular sent out by the bureau that last year the churches took up the subject with the result that the "budget" was brought to the attention of people who never heard or knew of such a thing before. With all due respect to the municipal reformers of New York, we cannot approve any such proposition as to drag politics into the church pulpits where in nine cases out of ten the preachers are not prepared to discuss such subjects. As for bringing the political workers even those who call themselves reformers, to occupy the pulpits, we are equally opposed to that.

If the pulpits will install into the minds of the people the fundamental principles of religion which embody honesty, justice and square dealing with all men, they will leave the masses so that the work of the reformers will be made easy and so that there will be a far greater proportion of the masses to stand up for what is right.

The pulpits can help civic reform more by preaching real religion than by discussing the municipal appropriations. They would also accomplish more for good government if they would continually impress upon the people the doctrine of individual responsibility and the imperative duty of "rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's."

THE COMING AUTO CARNIVAL.

Everything now looks very encouraging for the success of the great auto carnival in Labor day week. Not only will the greatest racers of this country be here, but foreign machines and companies will be represented in considerable number by racers of the latest pattern and manned by chauffeurs that have won international fame.

The committee in charge has undertaken a task of great proportions in order to solve properly the transportation question. The idea of constructing a tunnel under the railroad track and a pontoon bridge over the Merrimack river to serve the hundreds of thousands who will attend, is characterized by boldness and courage on the part of the committee, but nothing else will adequately solve the transportation problem.

It has been suggested that the Boston & Northern company would lay tracks from Moody street along Cabot's Avenue to Pawtucket street in order to be able to run jambo cars to the entrance of the boulevard. That might help in some degree as the empty cars could be sent over Pawtucket bridge on their return journey and thus prevent crowding at any point. If the scheme for a pontoon bridge be carried out, there will not be so much need of improved facilities on Moody street side as most of the people will probably go up Middlesex street to the landing. In that case the railroad company would probably have to construct a loop in order to facilitate the unloading of cars and their speedy return. The mammoth proportions of the crowd that will be in attendance that day will test the ability not only of the carnival committee but also of the street railway company and the Boston and Maine in providing safe and prompt transportation to the scene of the carnival.

The proposition to have the Wright brothers give an exhibition with their aeroplane has not yet been definitely settled, but it is quite likely that some such exhibition will be given, and that from Lowell the people of New England will see the first flight of a real air ship. It will be a great event for Lowell, and it remains for the management in co-operation with our city government and the railroad companies to perfect the arrangements so that the multitudes who will attend will have no cause for complaint in regard to the facilities provided for reaching the course and seeing the races.

SEEN AND HEARD

Police Officer Wesley Wilson is a great lover of floral beauty and devotes a great deal of his spare time to the culture of flowers. In your wanderings through the woods, if you should come across a blossom that's a stranger to you, ask Wesley. It is stated that the first tulips to bloom in Lowell this year spread their pretty leaves in Wesley's garden in Varney street.

The season may be backward but straw hats—never! Shivering but undaunted the small boy, when the "grown up" feels comfortable only in the companionship of his overcoat to sport himself in the canal. Don't forget Mr. Undertaker, that youth must be served.

The rocky road to Dublin is nothing as compared with certain portions of Middlesex street, but there are better and smoother times ahead.

Have you noticed the "spickspanners" of the doors to the municipal palace?

If you'll excuse the use of the personal pronoun, I could say that I am not prepared to pass judgment on the new fountain at Monument square. If the small boy is alive to his opportunities he will make many enemies for the fountain.

Twenty-two hundred and fifty-one dollars for a theatre ticket, the highest price ever paid. That's the price a single slip of pasteboard brought yesterday at the auction sale of seats for the Lamb's Theatre to be held, next Tuesday evening at the Boston theatre. After spirited bidding the first seat was sold to Charles Harris of Hich, Freeman & Harris, for $2001, and was resold several times, finally being secured for $40 by Mitchell the Tailor.

It was another striking demonstration of the business ability of Mitchell the Tailor to purchase at a big reduction, whether it's a matter of theatre tickets or woolsens, to be later on converted into garments for the New England public in his store at 305 Washington street.—Boston Post.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

H. G. Wells, the novelist, who is also socialist, has been finding fault with some of his fellow socialists. To their rescue now comes Bernard Shaw, with the following characteristic onslaught: "Take all the sins Wells has ascribed to his colleagues—the touchiness of Hyndman, the dogmatism of Quelch, Blatchford's preoccupation with his own methods, Grayson's irresponsibility—add other petuances of which a spoiled child or a successful operative is capable, multiply the total by ten, square the result, cube it, raise it to the millionth power, and square it again, and you will still fall short of the truth about Wells. CLEAR THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barbers' itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required, of effect a cure. Those who use ointment for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Lowell at Falls & Burdick's, and at Carter & Sherburne's and other leading drug stores. Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

The latest news about Lillian Nordica is not musical, but important. She had her voyage to England on the same steamer (the Kaiser Wilhelm II) with Mrs. Clarence Mackay—a society leader, who is also most useful on the school committee in her Long Island home, and a firm believer in suffrage for women. The result was the re-creating of the prima donna for the cause, and the day before landing, as it is asserted, Nordica said: "Next season will be my last on the opera and concert stage, but I expect to come before the public many times in the near future to plead for the cause of woman."

MRS. FRANK GOULD AND CHILDREN, WHO FIGURE ODDLY IN HER DIVORCE

NEW YORK, May 22.—Justice Gerard of New York city has signed an interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Helen Margaret Kelly Gould against Frank J. Gould. The custody of the two children, Helen Margaret and Dorothy, is divided between the father and mother. Mrs. Gould is to have them from December to April, inclusive, each year; Mr. Gould is to have them from May to November, inclusive. During the time each has the custody there is a provision made for visits. The justice devised an ingenious division of the custody of the children. He even divided the Christmas holidays. Next Christmas Mrs. Gould may have the children from 4 p.m. Christmas eve until noon Christmas day; Mr. Gould may have them from noon Christmas day until 10 o'clock the following morning. Christmas, 1910, the order is to be reversed, and so on. This picture of Mrs. Gould and the children was taken at the Lenox (Mass.) garden fete on the day the divorce was granted.

China purposes establishing wireless telegraph stations between Altai Mountains and Ahsen in the northwest of Chinese Turkistan. The telegraph installation in the interior is one of the most important needs of China today.

The Chinese bureau of foreign affairs and the minister of agriculture, industry and commerce have agreed on a set of special regulations for the opening of new commercial ports or centres. They are based on the principle of strict distinction between a settlement and a commercial port. They comprise four main points: 1. China will herself open the ports; 2. foreigners will be allowed to trade in these ports, but not to have stores therein or to own land in the interior; 3. the Chinese authorities will protect the port with Chinese troops; 4. foreign interference in local administration will be restricted.

The Java Reptile Skin company, capital $40,000, has been established at several places on the island of Java for the purpose of dealing in snake skins. The new Chinese government arsenal at Canton now turns out rifles and quick firing guns according to the latest patterns, which are almost as good as those imported from foreign countries with regard to make and finish.

The newly established German school in Canton, China, was opened on February 25, and a number of Chinese students are being trained in the German language.

The Man With a Wonderful Gift

Where Frank P. Rogers to publish the testimonial which he has received in the past few years of the wonderful cures performed by Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy, it would require several issues of The Sun to accommodate the testimonial. The success which Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy has achieved as a fam- ily medicine has been remarkable. Hun- dreds of residents of Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Nashua, Manchester and scores of other places in New Eng- land have been restored to health through this medicine and some, in cases upon cases where hope had been abandoned after paying hundreds of dollars to physicians and specialists, the patient has been restored to health and happiness through Mr. Rogers' medicine.
Prepared from roots and herbs, the fact that Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy contains no harmful drugs or alcohol has been substantiated. Mr. Rogers has recently received a large number of testimonials from persons who have been restored to health through this medicine and some of these will be published in subsequent issues of The Sun. In addition to his medicine, Mr. Rogers was also taught by the aged Indian squaw who gave him the formula for the preparation of Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy, the art of telling at a glance from what ailment a person suffers. Hundreds of persons in Low- ell and elsewhere can testify to per- sonal demonstrations of this wonderful gift.
Mr. Rogers will be at the Lowell office Wednesday, each week, where he will be pleased to meet any who wish to learn of his medicine. The price of Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy is 20 cents a bottle. It has formerly been sold for 75 cents. 15 Prescott st., Up one flight.

SET FREE

JUDGMENT SUSPENDED IN MAN- SLAUGHTER CASE

WORCESTER, May 22.—Suspended judgment because he believed the case came near to being one of self-defence. Judge Edward P. Pierce gave liberty yesterday to John Garfield of Hard- wick, after a jury in the superior crim- inal court found him guilty of man- slaughter. Garfield was charged with murder in the second degree in killing William A. Goodfield in Hard- wick May 5 by stabbing him after a mix-up in a hotel barroom, where Gar- field had made himself obnoxious to Goodfield and his friends.

WHITE MAN

ENTITLED TO MORE DAMAGES THAN NEGRO, SAYS COURT

NEW YORK, May 22.—A negro and a white man do not suffer equal humili- ation in the eyes of the law for false arrest, according to the appellate divi- sion of the supreme court, which yes- terday sustained an order of Justice Dugro of the supreme court reducing the amount of damages awarded to George Griffin, a Pullman porter, from $2500 to $500.

The negro was arrested in Montreal, charged with stealing a pocketbook, but the charge was not substantiated and he was released. He brought suit against Daniel P. Brady, a New York manufacturer, who caused his arrest, and obtained the $2500 verdict. This was set aside and the other relative to it was upheld yesterday.

Justice Dugro said that he would set aside the verdict unless Griffin would consent to its being reduced to $500. Griffin's counsel refused to accept the reduced verdict and Justice Dugro said that no such verdict as $2500 would ever stand for a moment in any court for the plaintiff.

SUED FOR $5000

THE COURT ORDERED A VERDICT OF SIX CENTS

NEW YORK, May 22.—After hear- ing the story of the sale of a photo- graph of Theodore Roosevelt, "sitting at his home at Oyster Bay" in an ac- tion brought by Peter A. Juley, a pho- tographer, against the Town Topics Publishing Co., Justice Dowling in the supreme court yesterday directed a verdict of six cents for the plaintiff. Juley claimed $5000 damages, on the ground that the publishing company failed to keep an engagement with him to publish the picture in "Fads and Fancies" with his name attached to it. He sold the picture to the Town Top- ics Co. for $500. In directing the ver- dict, Justice Dowling said that the plaintiff has presented no evidence to show that he had been damaged.

INCOME TAX

AMENDMENTS TO MEASURE TO BE PRESENTED

WASHINGTON, May 22.—It was an- nounced last night that the coalition of democratic senators and "progressive republicans" has been broken so far as the income tax question is concerned, and that amendments to that subject will be presented by both Senators Bailey and Cummins.

Both of these amendments will pro- vide for flat rates of the tax, but they differ on some other important features particularly the proposed tax on cor- porations. It was stated also upon the highest authority last night that an agreement has been reached between the finance committee and the support- ers of free lumber by which the duty on dressed lumber shall not be more than 50 cents a thousand above the rate fixed on rough lumber, whatever rate that may be.

HEAVY LOSS

BOSTON, May 22.—A monetary loss of $21,633,396 resulted from the 6253 fires in Massachusetts during 1908, according to the report of the state in- surance department yesterday. The in- surance losses paid amounted to $16,341,536. These totals are above the average due to the big conflagration in Chelsea.

When seen at his hotel by a reporter last evening Mr. Fleming said:

"You may say that I haven't got through with the Lowell ball game yet, but I intend to live in Lowell for some time to come. I have a contract to manage the Lowell team this year, and I have not violated it in any way. The contract provides that I shall have a right to interfere in any interference in making up my team or directing it on the ball grounds. I believe that we have gathered together good team in Lowell, but results cannot be seen until the outside interference nears."

President Munn of the Lowell baseball league apparently is trying to keep clear of the trouble, but the other managers are protesting, as poor attendances here affect them as much as the other teams. They are protesting the dislike playing for the more generous of $50 each time they come here.

Smart Wear FOR Women Who Motor

Dainty Attire For the Inn by the Roadway.

THE fair automobilist of the present is as daintily gowned as if she were taking her afternoon drive in a victoria.

Only very "new" motorists affect the hideous, half-trimmed goggles, rubber caps and mud-colored leather coats. After they have had a machine six months or so they know better and refuse to make spectacles of themselves.

In the summer time the smart girl is too wise to wear a shirt waist when she is automobilizing. She knows she will stop at different inns and that she must present a trim appearance when she removes her long coat. She therefore chooses gowns of rich colored linens, other brown, sage green or mulberry red, and these have no white yokes or soluble trimmings, but are relieved with bands of heavy lace dyed to match, eyelid thread or just merely stitched bands of the material. The automobile veil wound around the small hat shape must match the gown. That goes without saying.

Veils must be wide enough to cover the entire crown of the hat, the face and all the back hair, and there must still be enough left to tuck in snugly around the neck and throat.

I have seen women going sixty-five miles an hour with a narrow veil or one of the average width, and it was whipped to a string.

Many women prefer the coarse straw hat which has the veil attached, and that is all very well if one has not many costumes or can afford more than one piece of headgear. As I said before, to be ultra smart one's things should match, and the difficulty is not solved, either, by investing in a neutral straw with a white veil. If there is any one thing above all others which is unbecoming to the average woman it is a white automobile veil. In the first place, it doesn't stay white long, but after the first run turns to a dirty drab, and when I see a woman's sail-lace face (and what face does not get sallow with the dust?) peeping out from the folds of this ghostly wrapping all I can think of is first aid to the injured or a bad case of the toothache with the face done up in a napkin.

By the way, the woman with a colorless skin should beware of pale tints, such as baby blue, mauve and shell pinks. The old rose red and royal blue tones are for her, and she will on that account look at her best in them.

The wise woman in addition to her veil wears a hair net, because little wisps will escape, and there is no sense in being ill groomed at any time. The net should be "automobile size," ask for it under this name. The reason why most nets are so unbecoming is that they are too small for the head. If necessary use two, overcasting the edges with fine silk.

The net should be placed over the head, and the edges should be loosely tucked under the pompadour by means of invisible hairpins. It should never be brought around like a bandanna and screwed into a knot, either in front or in back, as so many women are guilty of doing. Now, as to shoes, the sixteen button boot is the thing. Anything worse than dusty ankles it is hard to imagine. A trim boot of brown leather or moleskin is the proper finish to a well planned costume. This year a great deal of bronze calf is being worn, and this is both practical and attractive because it doesn't peel like the bronze kid. A special liquid shoe polish comes for it which removes all shabbiness, and its metallic surface sheds the dust perfectly. The Coat's the Thing.

Now we come to the question of coats, perhaps the most important of all.

Every woman should have two wraps, one of wool for cool days and

Veils and Nets FOR The Dusty Roads

Coats For the Car Most Important of All.

another one of silk for warm weather. For the heavier one this year she will undoubtedly choose in the black and white checks which are so popular. Let no one imagine that these wraps are simply made on the raglan order. No, indeed; they are most elaborately trimmed with braid, gilt buttons and a touch of color on the cuffs and collar. The new shade of blue is perhaps the most popular to combine with a black and white check. I have seen coats piled with it on every seam, with patch pockets, collars and cuffs of it, and the entire lining also of the same shade. When this is combined with a Charlotte Corday shape of rough straw, around which is shirred a veil of the same color, the effect is ultra smart.

Material of Wraps.

Pongee this year is more fashionable than ever, but all the wraps are made with linings. This is a good thing, for it takes away the "slimsy" effect. The newest thing is the lining of polka dotted or corn spotted foulard in a royal blue and white. The illustration gives you a very good idea of that. Old rose is also used a great deal, but reseda green seems fitted by nature to harmonize with the ecru tones. Coats trimmed with this usually have it in a Persian trimming on the collars and cuffs, and that is matched to a plain surah lining.

As to buttons, etc., the newest are of passementerie and appear not only down the front, but wherever they can be placed. The gown of the five hundred buttons is certainly duplicated in coats. I wish I were a button manufacturer this year—that's all.

The other two coats illustrated are of blue mohair trimmed with white and gold braid and of waterproof satin in a steel gray shade.

The hat which goes with the mohair costume is of bengaline silk in the same shade of blue as the coat. The veil also matches. The relieving note to this costume is found in the white collar and the band on the cuffs.

SUMMER FRILLS AND FRIPPERY

The Kate Greenaway Gown and Quaint
Bonnet and Some Specimens of the Season's Gay Hosiery.

IF one takes stock of the summer fashions of 1909 one must say that La Mode is in a very gracious mood this season. To wear what one feels like wearing seems to be the order of the day, but under certain disordered lines. It is really funny to see the motley collection of clothes that hobnob in the most incongruous manner. The mediaeval and renaissance models meet and shake hands amicably with the director and Louis XVIII. duds and all well, but when one hears rumors that at Newport later on in the summer the Greenaway gown is going to have a vogue, why, one feels dubious. But we are told that it is going to be a modernized Kate Greenaway, and the resemblance seems to be found in the straight, scraggly skirt more nearly than in any other feature. And we are to have the quaint little bonnet that goes with it perched on our heads. But we are immune from further millinery impositions and have reached the calm that is supposed to betoken a philosophy view of the hat situation. To come right down to its last analysis, the Greenaway is nothing more than a mediaeval princess frock mounted on a deep yoke that reaches below the hips. It really looks very funny, the model I've seen. By the sartorial suffragette it would be called picturesque, but the anti would dub it just plain awkward.

As another example of the universality of the summer modes this new dress is a fine illustration, but as a frock to be seriously added to one's wardrobe it is not to be considered. It is meet, right and the bounden duty of the flounce to appear on lingerie gowns, and it has, and in a very deprecating way it is being put on some of our thin summer frocks. Flounces were assured after the long run we have had on straight lines, but one must not jump to the conclusion that the reign of the extreme styles is done, for the extremes are to be seen on all hands in virulent forms. It simply means that we are gradually evolving others less straight and narrow, and we shall see whether they are better things.

A charming little frock that united the empire lines with many new features was shown to me recently. The material, a delightful marquisette in white, dotted with glistening shimmering polka dots, was cut with a high empire waist line, and over the skirt, which was long and circular, appeared a combination drapery that cut away in coattail style about the hips and fell in points below the knees in the back and formed a shawl shaped effect over the shoulders. Trimming this drapery was a band of white silk edged with a narrow line of black velvet ribbon and falling beyond a ruffle of the feeling. Lacing of the velvet trimmed the bodice and sleeves, which, together with the gumpie, were of all over white lace.

In connection with sleeves let me tell you about a little idea which revealed itself to me in the dressing room of a fashionable New York woman. I was looking at some of her new gowns created for the season's social campaign, and on several of the long sleeves of net and cobwebby lace that played such an important role in the repertoire I noticed that these sleeves were invisibly fastened with the thickest hooks and thread eyes from elbow to wrist, thus fitting the arm like a second skin. The effect was exceedingly attractive. The upper part of the sleeve was also sufficiently tight, but without the hooks to which I have just alluded it would have been absolutely impossible for the lower part to fit the arm as it did. I recommend this idea for every one who goes in for the skin tight arm covering.

I don't know why, but arm covering inclines me to discuss the new stockings, which this summer are extremely noisy. They are here in every conceivable color and in unheard of harmonies. There are others that never could be taught the laws of harmony. They are ragtime revs in shades and designs. If you are so inclined you cannot only make your pedal exercises resemble the famous barber's pole, but you may give them an excellent imitation of the zebra on parade in natural shade. Then in sports there is the checkerboard pattern, a design reaching halfway up to the ankle in lifelike "your move next" squares of black and white or in squares of yellow, red and green. Dots! Certainly, they are to be found ranging in size from the invisible variety to the coin spots. Then, queerest of all, is the diaphanous stocking in the modish colors, with lacings at the side of the leg, in black, finished with bows and tassels.

Although it is the rule that shoes and stockings shall match, there are many cases where they do nothing but clash in the most ghastly fashion. For instance, women are wearing yellow stockings with black shoes, peach colored hose with gowns that tone, and gray shoes and cardinal stockings with black dresses and shoes, and with a striped costume one can don mixed hosiery of every shade and in different widths. Not content with a dozen or more stocking supporters, the garter has made its reappearance this summer in more gorgeous forms than ever. The bride's garter is a thing of real worth, trimmed as it is with a fall of priceless lace caught at one side with a spray of orange blossoms and a diamond or jeweled buckle of some sort. Yes, milady from the tip of her pretty head to an expensive piece of luxury this season of grace. But she is so charming, who would have her other-wise? Surely not.

ABOUT THE HOUSE.

SOMETHING entirely new in house furnishings is a telephone shelf made of glass. It measures six inches square and is secured to the wall by means of three nickel brackets that come with the shelf. The price is $1.50 complete. It is clean and sanitary.

Another dainty article is glass and nickel in a matchbox intended for bathroom use. It has a nickel match receptacle and a removable glass tray which receives the burnt matches. This, too, is new and costs $2.

A luxurious addition to the bathroom that is new this season is a white enameled stool, fitted with four strong legs and finished with a top of cork fully half an inch thick.

This is much more comfortable, being nonslippery, when one wishes to sit while drying the feet, and, of course, it absorbs the water, drying quickly afterward.

It is extremely strong and well finished and may be bought for $2.50.

Good Things For the Table

A FULL COOKY CROCK.

JUST as soon as school is out every mother knows the inevitable query, "What can I have to eat?" If the cooky jar is full, that all important question is soon disposed of. Here are a couple of cooky recipes that may be found helpful in such cases.

Ginger Snaps.—One tin of Orleans molasses, one cup of lard or butter, one cup of sugar, one heaping tablespoon of ginger, one heaping tablespoon of soda dissolved in a cup of hot coffee, flour enough to make a stiff dough.

Chocolate Cookies.—Four eggs, one cup of butter, one cup of sugar, three cups of flour, three squares of unsweetened chocolate, one-half teaspoon of vanilla flavoring. Roll very thin.

MACARRONES ESPAND.

Roll the macaroni in plenty of slightly salted water, drain and blanch by pouring cold water over it. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter and add two tablespoonfuls of chopped green onion. Cook five minutes and then pour in gradually a small cupful of brown stock and one of steamed and strained tomatoes. Season to taste with salt and paprika. Turn the macaroni into the sauce and reheat and serve at once.

CANTON SHERBET.

Cut one-fourth of a pound of Canton ginger in very fine pieces, add four cupfuls of water and one cupful of sugar and boil fifteen minutes, then add one cupful of orange juice and one-third of a cupful of lemon juice. Freeze as usual. The mixture may be strained and frozen as a frappe if desired.

HONEY MUFFINS.

Sift two cupfuls of flour with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Rub in two level tablespoonfuls of sweet butter, two eggs well beaten, five tablespoonfuls of milk and two-thirds of a cupful of honey. Mix and pour into well greased round muffin tins, filling half full; bake in a moderate oven. These muffins may be covered with fruit pudding sauce or whipped cream and served for cottage puddings.

AN ALMOND-CELERY SANDWICH.

A delicious sandwich filling is made from one part chopped almonds and two parts shredded or grated celery, with a dust of salt. Moisten the mixture with mayonnaise and spread between thin crustless slices of brown bread.

THE OLD FASHIONED MOTHER.

Neither Follies of Fashion Nor Social Doings Worry Her.

THERE aren't as many old fashioned mothers nowadays. Just as there aren't as many middle aged women. Our mothers are very dear, no doubt, and very pretty and lovable. And of course they are tremendously fond of their children, and their children are tremendously fond of them. But somehow or other many of them aren't like those gentle mothers of yesterday. And it is only once in awhile that we meet one of the real old fashioned kind.

She is not at all interested in what is "being worn," this old fashioned mother, and she has a serene disregard for "what people say." She seems just to be living her gentle, strong, wholesome life for her family and not to care at all whether clothes and persons and ideas are "fashionable" or not. She never muzzles her face to keep the wrinkles away or has her hair marcelled or chooses corsets that will give her "youthful lines." And yet, if she ever chances to be among any of these ultra modern women who refuse to be middle aged, it is the old fashioned mother who is indeed the most distinguished looking of them all.

Although she has never won a prize at a bridge tournament or driven a four-in-hand at the horse show or entertained in her box during the opera season, her life has been by no means dull nor uneventful. The children have always required a great deal of care, and there have been a few stray seasons through which she has had to steer the family boat herself. When times were hard and things had gone to pieces in the panic, and her husband's health had given way, she took charge of affairs, as a matter of course. The business fell into her hands for awhile, and she set it all on its feet again; a troublesome business it was, too, although she never talked about it nor seemed to regard her management of it as at all extraordinary. It was simply the only thing there was to do. And of course she had to shoulder all her own family cares at the same time, and John never liked to have any one else near him when he was sick.

Her sons and daughters, growing up, have always come to her with their joys and sorrows, their victories and defeats. And though there be those who say that her devotion has made her life a constant sacrifice to her children, those boys and girls are stronger men and women because she has started their lives aright and has given them, almost without their knowing it, the wonderful power of her example to live by. She has never hesitated to do anything, however hard or disagreeable, or even menial it may have been, for those whom she loved. She has never been afraid of growing old. She has never clamored for recognition or "credit" or gratitude. She never talks about herself, the old fashioned mother. She never insists upon herself. She has the reserve of other days. Her life has been one long act of giving. And to all those who come near her her presence brings the cool beauty of an evening's benediction.

What Some Business Girls Should Know

HERE are some things that successful business girls have found a decided help to them in their careers, and I am passing along the suggestions to other workers who may find them exceedingly useful. A girl of my acquaintance whose neat appearance is the envy of all her associates at the office says that the last thing she does at night is to brush her skirt, get out a clean blouse and put it in order, look at her shoes and gloves, brush her coat and see if her face veil is arranged on her hat and the hatpins in her hair.

Then this systematic little woman puts two clean handkerchiefs in her bag, and into the same receptacle often goes the laundry and shopping lists. These things done, to quote the girl herself, "I feel that I can sleep in peace until the very last minute in the morning because this half hour given to my clothes at night."

A small square of cloth or broom, in the opinion of another girl, under the office chair saves the skirt from dirt and wear. The broom is much better than a rug, says this embryo housekeeper, for the latter curls up and does all kinds of uncomfortable things.

Now, I know another worker who was recovering from a pneumonia last winter and was obliged to take to her work in a much weakened condition. Every evening as soon as she reached home she took a good alcohol rub and went to bed, having her dinner sent up to her. "Generally," she said to the patient, "the alcohol rub sent me to sleep before my dinner came, but I woke in a few minutes, ate the meal and stayed in bed until the next morning." This sort of nursing gave the girl a complete rest, and she was able to do her work satisfactorily until her strength was regained.

Another business girl is located in an old fashioned building in which there is no elevator, and as her desk is four flights of stairs the trip many times a day is a tiresome one. But this girl has done away with all thoughts of those "awful stairs" by learning to mount them properly. She holds her head erect, chest up and breathes deeply and slowly each time she puts the tail of her foot on each step. Watch yourself the next time you go upstairs and see if you climb up dragging your feet, with head down and chest caved in. If you do this, try her way and stop complaining.

Let me tell the girl cashiers that in handling money they should be very careful of their hands, washing them with antiseptic soap before eating or putting their hands on the face or in the mouth. There is a constant risk of blood poisoning if precautions are not taken, and it will be a good idea to ask a physician for a good antiseptic. In the meantime keep alcohol handy and rub on the hands.

Here is the advice of a girl, not of the newspaper profession, but one who has a lot of interviewing to do in connection with her work. "When I am to have a business interview I sit down and think over what questions I wish to ask. Then I put down the different points on a small visiting card that I can hold in my hand. By taking up each point separately and keeping my head I save much time. When I have a favor to ask in a business way I have the favor very clearly in mind for the question always is. Just what do you wish?" "Unless men have little patience with women who do not know how to ask."

6 O'CLOCK FIRE IS SPREADING Blaze in Mine Has Been Burning For Fifty Years

TAMMARA, Pa., May 22.—Despite the fact that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in endeavoring to extinguish the fire burning for fifty years in the Lehigh tunnel and Navies, the mine at Tammara, Pa., the fire is now spreading toward the spring tunnel workings and thirty of the Reading Co.'s carpenters and masons were sent from the Ashland district to aid in erecting concrete walls to check the spread of the flames. Great quantities of sulphur abound in the shafts and the work is dangerous. It may be necessary to fill the shafts with water in order to confine the battle against the spread of the fire.

ROOSEVELT HUNTING BUFFALOES

NAIROBI, British East Africa, May 22.—The Roosevelt expedition is still hunting buffaloes on the Nairobi river and today Mr. Roosevelt and his son Kermit succeeded in bringing down their third animal of this kind. The bull buffalo wounded by the hunters yesterday fell into the marshes where he was found and finished off.

ATHLETIC MEET STOCK MARKET

Dartmouth Has the Most Entries

BOSTON, May 22.—Their ardor to nip the athletic meet of their several colleges, undiminished by the showers which have made the track at Technology field heavy, the survivors of yesterday's elimination heats of the 22nd annual championship meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic association together with those athletes entered in the events as yet not begun today, competed in the final which would end the series to decide the meet. As has been expected, Dartmouth had the greater representation, having qualified 13 men yesterday and with several good men in the mile and two mile runs and in the 100 yards dash which had been left over was expected to score sufficient points to place them beyond the reach of the most aspiring among the other colleges. With the mile and two mile runs conceded to Colby and Stoughton, respectively, of Bowdoin and with that college represented among the qualifiers of yesterday it was expected that the individual scoring propensities of Captain Horras of Williams would be offset and the Maine institution get second place. The scramble for stray points at an intercollegiate meeting is ever an interesting one and sometimes has resulted in an overthrow of apparently well founded predictions. Although no such surprise was expected today, the odds of Andover, Brown, Wesleyan and Maine, somewhat thinned to be sure after yesterday's eliminations, might possibly yield the unexpected tally that would send those colleges to a place nearer the front than that generally allotted them by the forecasters. This might also be true in a lesser degree in the remaining athletes of Tufts, Trinity and Vermont. Holy Cross was relegated yesterday to oblivion so far as scoring is concerned for having failed to qualify even a single man in their first entry to the association's activities.

In addition to the tries to the mile and two mile runs and the 100 yards dash the number of men from each college eligible to compete in today's final events was as follows: Dartmouth 13, Williams 11, Technology 11, Andover 17, Wesleyan 5, Maine 4, Brown 4, Tufts 2, Vermont 1, Trinity 1.

Ex-Solicitor Who Testified in Rebuttal to the nature of the conferences. They came to me individually and collectively," said Mr. Hill.

"Were you consulted as to what a guest was?"

"I could not say."

"Did you at any time say to any member of the board or to the board collectively, when asked as to what a guest was, that the board knew just as much about the law as you did?"

"No, sir."

Commissioner Hanson

At 11:30 Commissioner Hanson was called and Mr. Burke began his direct examination of him.

He said that his answers to questions would be the same, substantially, as those given by Mr. Boulger and Mr. Stearns.

Mayor Brown asked Mr. Hanson if he had knowledge of written notices being sent to real estate owners abouting premises where licenses were applied for.

Mr. Hanson, acting under advice of counsel, refused to answer, and he was excused.

The mayor then called for Clerk Flaherty of the police board and asked him the same question.

All of counsel for the respondents objected and the mayor then called upon the board to instruct Clerk Flaherty to answer, but by order of counsel they refused to so instruct the clerk and the incident was closed.

At 11:45 a recess was declared and prosecuting counsel for the mayor said that he would finish with testimony in rebuttal at 1 o'clock.

Rev. Fr. Jacques Matter Expunged

The hearing was resumed at 12 o'clock.

Prosecuting counsel in opening asked privilege to make a few personal remarks and offered a motion to the effect that all questions asked Mr. Stearns relative to a conversation he had had with Fr. Jacques Matter be stricken from the records.

Presenting counsel for the mayor had said that Dr. Bertrand was a witness to the conversation between Mr. Stearns and Fr. Jacques, and he announced that Dr. Bertrand had been subpoenaed to appear, but was not on hand, and for that reason he asked to have all reference to the matter stricken from the records. Mayor Brown ordered it stricken out.

Elie Delisle in Rebuttal

Elie Delisle was called in rebuttal. He was asked if Richard Taft had polished his floors and he said he did.

He was asked relative to a conversation he had had with Mr. Taft in which it was purported that Mr. Taft said the mayor had promised him a liquor license.

Mr. Delisle denied that he had ever made the statement that Mayor Brown had promised him a license, and he said he never told Mr. Taft that the mayor had promised him a license.

He said he had never told Mr. Taft that the mayor had promised him a license.

On cross-examination Mr. Delisle, in reply to questions by Mr. Bent, said the school house in Tucker street was about 150 feet from his piano store.

His other store, he said, is a furniture store. He has other buildings in the same street—six others.

Witness said he had had some conversation with Mr. Taft relative to the mayoralty candidates, Brown and Casey.

They were the men who were running for mayor," said Mr. Bent.

Witness said he had never told Mr. Taft that the mayor had promised him a license.

"Did you make $75,000 in the furniture business in Tucker street?"

"You want to know too much. You want to know about my business."

"I was only curious to know if you had made $75,000," said Mr. Bent.

Witness admitted that he had talked with Mr. Taft relative to a license.

Mr. Bent—"Did you say to me in a corridor of this building that you had had a conversation with Candidate Brown, relative to a liquor license?"

Witness refused to answer.

The mayor instructed witness to answer, but he did not answer up to the time that Mr. Bent had finished with him.

On redirect examination witness was asked:

"Did Mr. Hamel tell you to come up here and testify?"

He said that Mr. Hamel wanted to see him.

"After you told Mr. Bent you had not asked to come up here and testify and didn't Mr. Hamel tell you not to come here?"

"Yes, Mr. Hamel did."

"And he asked you not to come up here?"

"Yes."

"Was it this, Mr. Hamel?" asked Mayor Brown.

"He is a lawyer in this city," was the answer.

Continuing, counsel for the respondents asked:

"Will you tell us what conversation you had with Mr. Bent relative to a license?"

"Just a moment," observed Mr. Bent.

Mayor Brown—"He will tell you I will admit it. He will tell you his mind and wants to tell the conversation he can do so, for we want the whole truth here."

Witness then went on to answer the questioning by stating: "I told Mr. Bent that I had some talk with Mr. Brown about a license. I was with Desrosiers. If he was here you could hear what he had to say. I never asked him for a license. He the mayor said that Father Garin was always against the granting of a license in Little Canada. I would have no license anyway if they gave me one. Mr. Brown said that some of the priests were against licenses in Little Canada and he said he would not give a license to anyone in that place."

"You told Mr. Bent that before Mr. Taft testified here?"

"I don't know."

Mr. Bent—"If he evidently meaning Desrosiers got a license who was going to pay for it?"

"I don't know."

"You were not?"

"No, sir."

"He never said anything to you about it?"

"No."

"How did you happen to be present?"

"I was there with him."

"Did you know what they were going to talk about?"

"They were talking about a license in Little Canada."

MacBryne Again

Winifred C. MacBryne, secretary to Mayor Brown, was at this point called in rebuttal.

He was asked: "You know Richard Taft who was a witness here?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever have a talk with Taft in which you stated that he would be appointed license commissioner?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever have any talk with Taft relative to certain police officers that would be discharged from the police force?"

"No, sir."

"Do you remember the testimony of Mr. the two reporters, one from the Courier-Citizen and the other from The Sun, Parais and Powers?"

"Yes, sir."

"Will you tell all the conversation about the license, wrestling match, etc.?"

"Mr. Powers of The Sun and Mr. Parais of the Courier-Citizen came into the mayor's office about 10 o'clock in the morning, as was their usual custom. The mayor and I were present. Some discussion arose about an article which appeared in The Sun and the Courier-Citizen in which the mayor had been misquoted, and things which had been printed that were not true. The mayor had criticized these two newspapermen for not writing news as they found it."

"He (the mayor) said: 'All that I desire from you fellows is a fair show. I am trying to treat you squarely in giving you the news from this office and I will be perfectly satisfied with a fair show.' Parais said: 'I have always tried to give you a fair show, but we have to obey orders at the office.' I think that Powers gave the same answer."

"Parais then in a joking manner brought up about the wrestling license."

"Lawyer Bent objected to the use of the word 'joking' being used."

Returning to said: "He (Parais) began to speak about wrestling matches. He said: 'I don't care what you do, as long as you succeed in fixing fights, I will stop you from getting my wrestling license.' The mayor said: 'Perhaps it was done because you faked the bouts.' He then said: 'I will approve of everything that you do if it is for the good of the city.'"

"Powers then said: 'What chance have I got to get a license?' He said it in a joking manner."

"That has been ruled out," said Mr. Bent.

"It has not been stricken out," quickly responded counsel for the prosecution.

"I ask Your Honor to strike it out," said Mr. Bent.

"I will have to decide to do so," said the mayor. "We want fairness, justice and truth."

"Save me an exception," said Mr. Bent.

When witness resumed with his testimony he interpreted the word "joking" at every opportunity possible, even going so far as to use the word so many times that it made his testimony appear as though he wanted to give the defense to understand that he had scored a signal victory.

Witness then went on to tell that after the license had been given of the mayor said: "You and Parais ought to be a pretty good pair to go into business together." I answered that they take it out in some other name."

Mr. MacBryne was asked relative to the Taft matter and he said that he had had a talk with Mr. Taft in which he had a license, which he declined. Taft said to him that he had a license which he had given to a drinker's grace, and he was seeking an opportunity to get back at the liquor dealers. Just for that he wanted to be police commissioner."

Mr. MacBryne made the rather startling statement that Mr. Taft made a proposition to him whereby, if appointed police commissioner, he could demand $500 from each of the liquor dealers.

"He told me," said MacBryne, "that such a deal would mean $15,000 for him and $15,000 for me."

Mr. MacBryne's story carried him into a conversation alleged to have taken place between Mayor Brown and Mr. Taft and that the mayor threw Mr. Taft down because of the proposition. Mr. MacBryne alleged Mr. Taft had made to him. Witness said the mayor told Mr. Taft he did not want to have anything to do with him.

The evidence was all in at 12:50 and according to agreement by counsel the hearing was adjourned to Monday morning at 10 o'clock for argument.

MEMORIAL DAY

General Orders Issued by Chief of Staff Worthen

General orders for the observance of Memorial day have been issued by George E. Worthen, of Post 42, chief of staff for Chief Marshal James P. Emerson. The plans include ceremonies for three days and there are many changes over past years. Plans for Monday center about the unveiling of the Lincoln memorial where elaborate exercises will be held in the presence of civilians and members of the military organizations.

For the first time in many years the parade will not form on the south common, instead the formation will be at Lincoln square just prior to the unveiling exercises.

The general orders are as follows: Saturday, May 22, flags and wreaths will be placed on all the graves of deceased veterans. In the past potted plants have been placed on the graves, but too often they have been stolen. On Sunday, May 30, many veterans will attend the morning services at the Worthen Street M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. J. W. Stephan having invited them. The relief corps of Post 120, James A. Garfield corps, will attend the morning services at the Advent Christian church in Grand street. The members will meet at the state armory and go to the church in a body. In the afternoon of Sunday memorial exercises will be held at the First Congregational church where Alderman Wainwright will be the chief speaker.

On Monday, May 31, detachments from the three G. A. R. posts will assemble at Memorial hall, Merrimack street, at 9 o'clock. At 9:30 o'clock cars will convey them to the various cemeteries in the city. The Lowell, Old English, Edison and St. Patrick's, Post 120 will send a delegation to the burying ground in Tyngsboro, and on the way home a detachment will visit the burying ground in School street. Post 185 will send a detachment to Tewksbury in the morning.

The headquarters for the day will be established at the corner of Hale and Lincoln streets. All commanders of organizations will report there. At 2:15 o'clock the three Grand Army posts, with the Lowell Military band, will assemble in John street. Cars will be taken to Lincoln square, where the ceremonies of unveiling the Lincoln memorial will be held. The American band will accompany the battalion of militia from the armory. After the parade the American band will return to the armory with the militia companies. The Lowell Military band will report to Commander Edwards of Post 120. After the parade this band will accompany Post 185 to its headquarters in the Cook Taylor Co. building in Central street.

All organizations will report to the chief marshal, Lincoln square, at 2:45 o'clock. The line will be formed on Chelmsford street, right across on Shaw street, in the following order:

American Band
Battalion of Militia
Post 42
High School Regiment
Lowell Military Band
Post 120
Post 185
Spanish War Veterans
Sons of Veterans
Carriages

The formation at the Lincoln memorial will be in squares. The Grand Army posts, Lowell Military band, Spanish war veterans and sons of Veterans will form the center square. The American band and militia will form the inner square, and the High School regiment will form the outer square. Commanders of companies will insist on strict silence in the ranks during the ceremonies of unveiling.

Drivers of carriages conveying guests or disabled veterans will form in single column on three sides of the square, the leading carriage resting on Hale street, at Lincoln street. During the parade they will form in double line.

The general formation will be, for escort in column of companies; all other

UNKNOWN BURGLAR

Killed by Posse of Young Men at Hyde Park

HYDE PARK, May 22.—An unknown burglar was killed here today by a posse of young men who had been summoned to the scene by Miss Harriet Foss, the daughter of the proprietor of a store, who was returning from a dance and who discovered the man pilfering her father's cash drawer.

Without disturbing the man in the store Miss Foss sent her escort for other young men and when the man dropped from the window of the store to the ground the place was completely surrounded and he was ordered to throw up his hands. Instead, he put his hand to his hip pocket where a revolver was hidden and fired at the young men. A bullet passed through his abdomen and he died within two hours. The man refused to give his name, but said that he was of a good family.

Miss Foss and Clyde Brown, her escort, started home from the dance about 1 a. m. and as they approached the store of George Foss they saw in the dim rays of the lamp in the store the form of a man bending over the cash drawer. Miss Foss with considerable presence of mind told Brown to go back and get the other young men at the dance while she remained watching the burglar. Within a few minutes half a dozen young men had named themselves and surrounded the store. They had not long to wait. Raising a window the man dropped to the street and started in the direction of Mr. Billings. The night was dark and the lights of the town had been turned off, but Billings could see the man and when he was a short distance off he ordered him to halt and throw up his hands. Billings said the man reached around as if to draw a revolver from his hip pocket and he immediately fired. The man dropped with a groan and the young men carried him into Mr. Foss' house and summoned two doctors. It was found that the bullet had passed through his abdomen and that nothing could be done to save his life. He was asked to give his name or those of his relatives and friends, but he refused, although his critical condition was impressed upon him. He died at 1 a. m.

The contents of the cash drawer and several other articles as well as burglar's tools were found in the man's pockets. State's Attorney Morris investigated the case this forenoon but accepted young Billings' version of the shooting and the latter was not taken into custody. Miss Foss is about twenty years of age.

WILDER CASE

Jury Gives Verdicts of $1000 and $100
The jury in the case of Marie and George H. Wilder vs. Boston & Maine for $20,000 and $10,000 damages, respectively, for injuries received in a collision at Springfield returned verdicts of $1000 for the wife and $100 for the husband. In this case the defendants admitted their liability and the suit was brought on the question of damages. Lawyer Sherman of the firm of Coakley and Sherman appeared for the plaintiff and Trull and Wier for the defendant. The case went to the jury yesterday morning and the verdict was returned before afternoon adjournment. The case was very stubbornly fought on both sides and the verdict was regarded as a victory by Trull and Wier.

When the case of Marie and George H. Wilder is finished in superior court on Monday another case against the Boston & Maine will go on and the jury at the outset will take a trip to a point just below Wilmington where the accident occurred to view the scene. It has been decided to take the jurors to Wilmington in a special electric car so that they may have some comfort and the privilege of a smoke. A juror's life is no longer secure that some would imagine and they look forward to any opportunity to get a little fresh air and the inevitable smoke.

POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET IN COURT THIS MORNING
Joseph Primeau, whose thirst for liquor and bad companions has caused him to neglect his wife and family, appeared before Judge Bradley in police court this morning on two complaints, one charging him with neglecting to provide for his wife and the other for threatening his wife. He pleaded guilty to both complaints.

Mrs. Nellie Primeau, the wife, testified that she has four children and has to work in the mill every day in order to support her little family. She is able to make but $5.50 a week and this is not sufficient to provide for the family and she has to get assistance from her mother from time to time.

She said that her husband did not work, though he was able to do so and is a good workman when sober. She said that despite the fact that he has no money he manages to secure drink and is drunk two or three times a week.

Mrs. Primeau testified that her husband threatened to kill her. She said that she was afraid that he might do so and for that reason had him arrested.

Primeau, who has been before the court on several previous occasions, told the court if he was given another chance he would take the pledge and go to work Monday morning. Mrs. Primeau stated that she would be willing to give her husband a trial if he would promise to do better in the future. Judge Bradley thought that a few days' rest in jail would do him good. Primeau's case was continued for one week. He will remain in jail until next Saturday morning and then if he is willing to promise to do better the court will place him on probation.

Drunk Offenders
There were two first offenders who were fined 25 cents and five simple drunks were released.

LAWYER FAHEY

HAS BEEN ASSIGNED TO DEFEND PERRY.

BOSTON, May 22.—Attorney James H. Fahey was yesterday appointed by Judge Schofield of the superior court to act as counsel for Hiram M. Perry, who is indicted for murder in connection with the shooting of Catherine McDougall, whom Perry claimed as a sweet heart.

Although only a formal matter for the court to transact, the proceedings of yesterday were replete with pathetic incidents. Perry's physical condition, due to his taking poison after the shooting, was so pitiable as to cause Judge Schofield to pause for a short period in order to give the defendant an opportunity to speak.

When Perry's name was called he half walked and half dragged himself before the court. The usual proceedings of making him stand in the cage were dispensed with owing to his weakness.

Clerk Campbell asked him if he had counsel and in a feeble voice Perry said no.

Judge Schofield then informed Mr. Fahey that he had been assigned to the case. Attorney Fahey rose in his chair and extended his hand to Perry, but the latter was too weak to exchange the courtesy.

THE GOVERNOR

TO VETO THE SALARY INCREASE BILL

BOSTON, May 22.—Governor Draper is waiting with his veto pen in hand for the amended salary bill, which sailed through the senate yesterday by a vote of 12 to 16. The bill increases the salary of a member of the general court from $750 to $1000, and it goes into effect next year.

The bill when it first appeared went into effect this year, but was amended through the efforts of those who did not care to be accused of having voted to raise their own salaries.

The bill was defeated last year. The governor said yesterday that he was waiting for the bill, and he said it oppressively, to a friend who repeated it outside.

The number of vice presidents was increased from three to five.

An early session will be held tomorrow in the hope of bringing the convention to a close, but in case the session cannot be finished sessions will be resumed Monday.

Continued

Late Yesterday Afternoon
Mayor Brown was considerably perturbed when he adjourned his hearing last evening. He had tried to have Mr. Stearns answer a question that was foreign to the charges, and Mr. Bent advised Mr. Stearns not to answer.

The mayor's question was as follows: "It appears on the record, 120. Before the hearing, Mr. Stearns, for the sale of intoxicating liquors and common victuals, in 1908, did you in March or April send written notices to the owners of real estate abutting on the premises where, at the time of the application, there were no licenses for such sales, in accordance with chapter 285, § 190?"

Mr. Bent—"I object to the question. There is no such charge."

The mayor—"I direct the witness to answer the question."

Mr. Bent—"I direct him not to, on the ground that it is not in the charges."

The mayor—"That does not matter. I have the right to question anything up to March 17. I reserve the right to ask the question up to March 17. Now I will ask the stenographer to read that question."

The question was repeated, and Mr. Bent reiterated his objection, that it was not included in any charges.

The mayor—"I will overrule your objections. It is in accordance with their duty. I direct you, Frank K. Stearns, to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"I direct you not to." The mayor—"I direct you to answer that question, Mr. Stearns. What is your answer?"

Mr. Bent—"He will not answer."

The mayor—"Mr. Stearns, you heard my directions, what is your answer?"

Mr. Bent—"Pause a moment, Mr. Witness. I refer to page 1258 of this record. When Your Honor's private secretary was on the stand, I asked him a question and he said, 'I won't answer'."

Mr. Bent—"I asked Your Honor to order that that question be answered. Your Honor said, 'I do not see, Mr. Bent, where I have any power to compel the witness to answer. I stand on Your Honor's ruling now.'"

The mayor—"This is a member of the board of police who is answering the question, and I am asking for that information and I direct him to answer."

Mr. Bent—"He declines to answer, under my direction."

The mayor—"I will not consider that, Mr. Bent. It is a matter between the mayor and the commissioner."

Mr. Bent—"No, Your Honor. It is a matter between the mayor and the commissioner, under the charges, and under Your Honor's ruling that Your Honor cannot compel a witness to answer. I direct the witness not to answer, because the question is not competent, under the pleadings in this case."

If Your Honor cannot compel your private secretary to answer, you cannot compel this witness to answer."

The mayor—"This is a different matter entirely. We will not have any further discussion. These commissioners are before me, and I make an inquiry as to whether or not they have fulfilled their duty as commissioners. I am asking whether or not they are complied with that statute. We are limited entirely to charges, in a hearing of this kind."

Mr. Bent—"I think we are, absolutely."

The mayor—"I do not think it will be necessary to prolong this inquiry. The responsibility will be upon the chairman of the board. I direct you, Mr. Stearns, to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"I direct you not to." The mayor—"Mr. Stearns, do you hear Mr. Bent?"

Mr. Stearns—"Of course I hear you. By advice of my counsel, I decline to answer."

The mayor—"I do not accept that, I direct you to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"You may sit down, Mr. Stearns."

The mayor—"There is no reason why the commissioner should answer that question. I think you are using a lot of time for Mr. Bent, when you direct this commissioner, before me on charges, and deny me the right to ask any question of their acts as commissioners. I have that right."

Mr. Bent—"I am absolutely certain that the question Your Honor asks is wrong and under Your Honor's previous ruling that Your Honor cannot compel a witness to answer, I reserve the right to direct him not to answer, and Your Honor cannot compel him."

The mayor—"We will have no argument. Mr. Bent, I will ask the chairman of the board of police for the last time to answer that question."

Mr. Bent—"He will not answer it."

The mayor—"Mr. Stearns, do you hear me?"

Mr. Stearns—"My hearing is still good, Mr. Mayor. I decline to answer that question, yes or no?"

The mayor—"By advice of my counsel, I will decline to answer."

The mayor—"This hearing stands adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

CHILD MAY DIE

She Poured Kerosene Oil On Fire

ASHLAND, N. H., May 22.—One of the most pitiful accidents which has occurred there for many years happened last evening at Holderness, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dorey. The clothing of their 12-year-old daughter, Gertrude Addie Dorey, while she was pouring kerosene oil on the fire, became ignited and she is not expected to live.

Mrs. Dorey says she went to the post office after the mail and on the way back stopped at the store of N. B. Whitten to buy groceries. Upon leaving the store she heard her daughter screaming. Running home she was horrified to see at the top of the stairs her daughter with her clothes on a mass of flames.

She tore what clothing there remained on the child off of her. She then telephoned for aid. Doctors found that the child was fatally burned.

It is thought that Gertrude, who was sitting on the stairs, poured kerosene upon the hot ashes in the stove. The kerosene can was found in the middle of the kitchen floor, with the bottom blown out and the snout blown off.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

HOLY NAME OF ST. PATRICK'S TO HOLD CELEBRATION

Tomorrow morning the silver anniversary of the organizing of the Holy Name society in St. Patrick's church will be observed. For the past several weeks the committee on arrangements for the event has been formulating plans. A solemn high mass will be celebrated in the church at eleven o'clock. In connection with this observance the spiritual director of the society has secured the services of an eloquent Jesuit missionary, Father O'Kane, S. J., a past president of Holy Cross college, to deliver the sermon.

The grand total of 600 members it is expected will be present at the service and the entire south aisle of the church will be reserved for them. The mass will be celebrated by Rev. Jos. C. Cullen, the spiritual director of the society, to whose energetic efforts the flourishing condition in which the society is at the present is due.

The choir of the church will be present and a musical program suiting the occasion will be carried out. Hymns of the Holy Name will be the feature of the processional and recessional sung by the Sanctuary choir. Vespers will be conducted in the evening at the usual hour with special music.

OUT ON STRIKE

PARIS, May 22.—Although the General Federation of Labor decided yesterday to call off the strike, the sailors, dockers and stewards of the merchant marine and Havre and French ports. The grievances of these men are of long standing. They include the non-application to them of the weekly day of rest law; equalization of salaries on passenger freight boats and objection to being paid off when a ship has been out of commission less than a month.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SUPPER
A very successful entertainment and bean supper was held in Middlesex hall, between the ladies and members of the Peoples church Friday evening. Too much praise cannot be given Miss Mildred McKnight as reader for the able manner in which she rendered her subjects, "Mice at Play" and "Green Mountain Justice." A song entitled "Meet Me in Rosetown, Rosie" sung by Miss Meader Haynes, was heartily enjoyed by all. A recitation by Miss Alma Staples entitled "A Little Light" was pleasing to all. A recitation entitled "When the Minister Comes to Tea" was given by Miss Thelma Dyer.

Mrs. Alma Mitchell had charge of the dining room, assisted by Mrs. Frank Fuller, Miss Day, Mrs. George A. Lindsay. Ice cream and cake were served after the entertainment.

PAID FINAL TRIBUTE

To Memory of Henry H. Rogers,

the Deceased Financier

FAIRHAVEN, May 22.—Fairhaven, the birthplace of Henry H. Rogers, today paid final tribute to the memory of the deceased financier, in their expression of grief at Mr. Rogers' death his fellow townsmen were sincere, for throughout his entire life the capitalist had enjoyed the affection, admiration and respect of the Fairhaven people. Proud of his success in the industrial world, grateful because of his benefactions to his native town and cherishing him as a personal friend the residents of the village united today in giving expressions of respect for him. From 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 1 o'clock in the afternoon all business was suspended. Drawings of a simple black flag from all the public buildings, most of which had been presented to Fairhaven by Mr. Rogers during his lifetime, and throughout the town flags were set at half mast. Everywhere there were evidences of the sincere grief of the townspeople at the death of Mr. Rogers, who was esteemed most highly here because of his benefactions, his interest in the town and its people, his genial personality and his warm friendship for every person in the village.

The funeral party arrived here on a special train from New York last night and the body of the capitalist was taken to his summer home at Fort Phoenix. This afternoon it was carried to the Unitarian Memorial church, which was built by Mr. Rogers several years ago as a tribute of affection for his native town. In this imposing Gothic edifice the casket was placed before the altar and was attended by a guard composed of members of two Masonic lodges, George E. Taber, lodge of Fairhaven, to which Mr. Rogers had belonged, and Star in the East lodge of New Bedford, of which the financier had been an active member for more than forty years.

A cold northeast rain storm set in during the night and during the forenoon a drenching rain fell. The half-masted flags hung stiffly to their shafts, while the mourning draperies on the public buildings, banks and the Atlas Tack Co. plant, which was owned by Mr. Rogers, hung in sodden folds. Because of the storm several individuals who had planned to drape their residences in mourning were forced to abandon the idea. It was feared also that the storm would interfere with the passing of the casket in the funeral procession, which was to be held from the church to the cemetery.

At 10 o'clock the doors of the church were thrown open and for an hour there was a procession of silent school children passing by the casket in which reposed the form familiar to and beloved by all the children in the town. From 11 a. m. till 1 p. m. the residents of the town were admitted to the church and permitted to gaze upon the features of the dead. Many of them had known Mr. Rogers from his earliest boyhood; others had been his schoolmates while he had enjoyed the privilege of a lifetime intimacy. All were greatly affected by the occasion, while tears flowed down many cheeks and sobs shook many forms. The church was closed to the public at 1 p. m. and from that time on no one was admitted except on presentation of a ticket. The distribution of tickets had been limited to members of the Rogers family and personal friends.

Beginning at 3 p. m. and continuing till the hour of the funeral services, a program of the favorite hymns of Mr. Rogers was played on the Memorial church chimes. Among the selections were "Lead, Kindly Light," "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Abide With Me." The funeral services, which were private, were conducted by Rev. Dr. Collier, the venerable pastor emeritus of the Messiah, New York, for years a personal friend and pastor of the financier. Rev. Frank L. Phalen, pastor of the Memorial church, assisted in the services.

The interment was in the Rogers family tomb at Riverside cemetery, where rest the bodies of Mr. Rogers' mother, his first wife and his daughter Millicent. The tomb is a replica of a classic Greek temple and is situated on a beautiful knoll overlooking the Acushnet river.

24 STAB WOUNDS

Woman is Expected to Recover

NEW YORK, May 22.—Alice Walsh, the young woman formerly of Chicago who was stabbed twenty-four times last night in a quarrel with Cornelius Shea, former president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, probably will recover from her wounds. She was under treatment in St. Vincent's hospital today and the physicians said they had little doubt that she would survive although weak from shock and loss of blood. Shea, who was found in the apartment in West 13th street where the quarrel took place was still under arrest awaiting the result of the young woman's injuries.

LIGHT INFANTRY

Thirteen Survivors Met at New American

Thirteen members of the Richardson Light Infantry met at the New American House last night and talked over old times. The Richardson Light Infantry company was mustered into active service in Boston nearly a half century ago. The few remaining members of the company are scattered far and wide. Those who were unable to attend the reunion last night sent letters of regret.

The feature of last night's meeting was the formal mustering into the company of a number of the sons of veterans who were invited there as guests but who came away comrades. The sons of the veterans will perpetuate the spirit of the company and an effort will be made to locate every son of the company.

The regular business meeting of the association was held before the banquet and the board of government was re-elected for the coming year. It consists of Samuel W. Benson, Morton N. Peabody and W. H. Worcester, Mr.

HON. GEORGE F. RICHARDSON President.

Worcester later in the evening, resigned, and W. N. Goodell, one of the new members, was elected unanimously to take his place.

Hon. George F. Richardson was again elected president. Francis T. Wilson, vice-president, and Charles R. Brigham, secretary and treasurer. The banquet was followed by speeches, stories and reminiscences. Dr. W. H. Rudwick of Boston, an invited guest, was the first speaker.

He paid a glowing tribute to the late Charles W. Brigham, who was "mustered out" last year. Other speakers included Lawrence Cummings, James W. Bean, Samuel W. Benson of Springfield, Greenleaf C. Brock of this city, W. N. Goodell of this city, and others.

Hon. George F. Richardson, the organizer of the company, was able to be there a few minutes to greet his old friends, and was accompanied by his grandson, George Jefferson.

Those present last night were the following: First Lieut. Wm. E. Farrar, Lowell; Sergt. W. Henry Worcester, Lowell; Colorbearer Chas. H. Filisetti, Boston; James W. Bean, West Somerville; Samuel W. Benson, Charlestown; Franklin French, Lowell; Charles Frost, Lowell; Henry L. Gardner, Springfield; Morton N. Peabody, Lowell; Edmund B. Sargent, Boston; James Schofield, North Grafton; Geo. N. Thissell, Methuen; Francis T. Wilson, Lowell.

The invited guests were Dr. W. H. Rudwick, Boston; W. A. Eaton, Lawrence; Greenleaf C. Brock, Lowell; Geo. Jefferson, Lowell; Lawrence Cummings, Lowell, and the sons of the veterans: Arthur P. Wilson, Boston; W. N. Goodell, Lowell; A. G. McCurdy, Lowell; Peabody, Boston; Edward W. Brigham, Lowell; Charles R. Brigham, Lowell.

The Richardson Light Infantry company was organized April 19, 1861, and was sworn into the United States service at Boston on May 21, 1861.

DEATH DUTIES

STRONGLY DENOUNCED BY EX-PREMIER BALFOUR

LONDON, May 22.—The house of commons has passed the new death duties by a vote of 238 to 122, the settlement duties 309 to 122, the legacy and succession duties by 300 to 127, the automobile taxes without a division, and the reduction in the sinking fund by 203 to 59. Ex-Premier Balfour again strongly denounced the death duties, saying among other things:

"Let us be careful that we do not associate democracy with robbery, an association which has never been true of any civilized modern state, and which, I hope, will never be true of this country, but it seems nearer after this budget than ever before."

PRACTICE DRILL

BY HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT ON COMMON

The High School regiment held a drill on the South common yesterday afternoon, which was witnessed by a large number of people. The drill was held for the purpose of selecting three companies and a squad of individual drillers for the prize drill to be held at the field day next Friday. The purpose of this preliminary drill was to cut down the time devoted to drills at the field day exercises.

The regiment assembled at the drill shed at 2 o'clock under the command of Col. J. Henry Gilbride and led by the drum corps marched to the South common, where the drill took place. Lieut. Col. Calhoun and Major Thomas F. Markham, respectively, were in command of the first and second battalions. Each company was put through the manual before the judges, who were Capt. Philip McNulty, Capt. Walter J. Jones and Lieut. George W. Peterson. Two squads of individuals were put through the manual by Adjutant Pullen and the men were weeded out gradually until but 13 individual prizes remained.

The first battalion went through an exhibition of Butt's manual under the direction of Capt. Colby T. Kittredge. Among those present at the drill were Principal Cyrus W. Irish, Frank W. Sherburne and Frank Woodward of the faculty of the school.

At 5.30 o'clock the regiment formed in line and marched back to the drill shed, and Capt. Kittredge announced the three companies as selected by the judges. The companies chosen were those commanded by Capt. John A. Quinn, Capt. George F. Seede and Capt. George F. Kirby.

THE WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

Considerable advances are being made in wireless telegraphy. The latest discovery announced is that of "singing sparks" or musical messages which means that the vibrations are sent out in the form of pure musical tones capable of being caught by the receiver no matter how softly uttered. By this method it is also stated communication can be maintained in spite of the most violent atmospheric disturbance and the sparks on their passage through the air are entirely noiseless. This new discovery, it is believed, will result in the establishment of a wireless telephone system. So great are the possibilities of the wireless electric waves that the ultimate success of the discovery is probably beyond human imagination at the present time.

BOSTON CHARTER BILL.

The Boston charter bill has been reported to the legislature and will probably be enacted. It is based upon the recommendations of the finance commission that recently probed the workings of the Boston city government.

The bill has a referendum attached and among the more important questions to be decided by the people will be whether the mayor will have a two or a four year term, and whether the nominations will be made by direct vote of the people or by the old method of nominating conventions. We are not acquainted with the views of Boston citizens upon the matter of direct nomination, but we do know the general effect of the Luce law is to put incompetent men in office. It has proved a detriment wherever it has been used in the cities of this state, it has had the effect of preventing capable and desirable men from seeking office and it has inspired a lot of undesirable and incompetent men with a mania for political office. Tickets have been put up by direct nomination under the Luce law that could never procure a nomination from a convention of intelligent delegates. That is why we believe that it would be better for Boston and other cities to go back to the old method of having nominations made by conventions of delegates duly elected by the people.

PROPOSITION TO DEGRADE THE PULPIT.

The New York bureau of municipal research has done much good in bringing to public attention many of the abuses, financial and otherwise, that have existed for many years. Its latest proposition is, that on two Sundays, May 23rd and 30th, the church pulpits be given up to a discussion of the budget, or the appropriations for the ensuing year. It is alleged in a circular sent out by the bureau that last year the churches took up the subject with the result that the "budget" was brought to the attention of people who never heard or knew of such a thing before. With all due respect to the municipal reformers of New York, we cannot approve any such proposition as to drag politics into the church pulpits where in nine cases out of ten the preachers are not prepared to discuss such subjects. As for bringing the political workers even those who call themselves reformers, to occupy the pulpits, we are equally opposed to that.

If the pulpits will insist into the minds of the people the fundamental principles of religion which embody honesty, justice and square dealing with all men, they will lighten the masses so that the work of the reformers will be made easy and so that there will be a far greater proportion of the masses to stand up for what is right.

The pulpits can help civic reform more by preaching real religion than by discussing the municipal appropriations. They would also accomplish more for good government if they would continually impress upon the people the doctrine of individual responsibility and the imperative duty of rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's.

THE COMING AUTO CARNIVAL.

Everything now looks very encouraging for the success of the great auto carnival in Labor day week. Not only will the greatest racers of this country be here, but foreign machines and companies will be represented in considerable number by racers of the latest pattern and manned by chauffeurs that have won international fame.

The committee in charge has undertaken a task of great proportions in order to solve properly the transportation question. The idea of constructing a tunnel under the railroad track and a pontoon bridge over the Merrimack river to serve the hundreds of thousands who will attend, is characterized by boldness and courage on the part of the committee, but nothing else will adequately solve the transportation problem.

It has been suggested that the Boston & Northern company would lay tracks from Moody street along Colonial avenue to Pawtucket street in order to be able to run jumbo cars to the entrance of the boulevard. That might help in some degree as the empty cars could be sent over Pawtucket bridge on their return journey and thus prevent crowding at any point. If the scheme for a pontoon bridge be carried out there will not be so much need of improved facilities on Moody street side as most of the people will probably go up Middlesex street to the landing. In that case the railroad company would probably have to construct a loop in order to facilitate the unloading of cars and their speedy return. The mammoth proportions of the crowd that will be in attendance that day will test the ability not only of the carnival committee but also of the street railway company and the Boston and Maine in providing safe and prompt transportation to the scene of the carnival.

The proposition to have the Wright brothers give an exhibition with their aeroplane has not yet been definitely settled, but it is quite likely that some such exhibition will be given and that from Lowell, the people of New England will see the first flight of a real airship. It will be a great event for Lowell, and it remains for the management in co-operation with city government and the railroad companies to perfect the arrangements so that the multitudes who will attend will have no cause for complaint in regard to the facilities provided for reaching the course and seeing the races.

SEEN AND HEARD

Police Officer Wesley Wilson is a great lover of floral beauty and devotes a great deal of his spare time to the culture of flowers. In your wanderings through the woods if you should come across a blossom that's a stranger to you, ask Wesley. It is stated that the first tulips to bloom in Lowell this year spread their pretty leaves in Wesley's garden in Varney street.

The season may be backward but straw hats—never!

Shivering but undaunted the small boy, when the "grown up" feels comfortable only in the companionship of his overcoat, disports himself in the canal. Don't forget, Mr. Undertaker, that youth must be served.

The rocky road to Dublin is nothing as compared with certain portions of Middlesex street, but there are better and smoother times ahead.

Have you noticed the "spick-spanners" of the doors to the municipal palace?

If you'll excuse the use of the personal pronoun, I would say that I am not prepared to pass judgment on the new fountain at Monument square. If the small boy is alive to his opportunities he will make many enemies for the fountain.

Twenty-two hundred and fifty-one dollars for a theatre ticket, the highest price ever paid. That's the price a single slip of pasteboard brought yesterday at the auction sale of seats for the Landis (Gambol) to be held next Tuesday evening at the Boston theatre.

After spirited bidding the first seat was sold to Charles Harris of Rich, Frohman & Harris, for $2901, and was resold several times, finally being secured for $40 by Mitchell the Tailor.

It was another striking demonstration of the business ability of Mitchell the Tailor to purchase at a big reduction, whether it's a matter of theatre tickets or woolsens, to be later on converted into garments for the New England public in his store at 305 Washington street.—Boston Post.

OUR TWO LIVES

We live two lives; the outer seeming and only laughter on the surface lies. Our inner life—no one may enter there. Where thoughts and hopes are hidden from all eyes.

The lonely days of wind, revolt and pain. Their resignation for the dear dreams gone. The heart-hopes, half defined, then crushed again. Make up the silent life we live alone.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

H. G. Wells, the novelist, who is also socialist, has been finding fault with some of his fellow socialists. To their rescue now comes Bernard Shaw, with the following characteristic onslaught: "Take all the sins Wells has ascribed to his colleagues—the touchiness of Hyndman, the dogmatism of Quelch, Blatchford's preoccupation with his own methods, Grayson's irresponsibility—add other pettinesses of which a spoiled child or a successful operative is capable, multiply the total by ten, square the result, cube it, raise it to the millionth power, and square it again, and you will still fall short of the truth about Wells. CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very onset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Lowell at Falls & Burdick's and Carter & Sherburne's and other leading drug stores. Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

The latest news about Lilian Nordica is not musical, but important. She had her voyage to England on the same steamer (the Kaiser Wilhelm II) with Mrs. Clarence Mackay—a society leader, who is also very useful on the school committee in her Long Island home, and a firm believer in suffrage for women. The result was the recruiting of the prima donna for the cause, and the day before landing, as it is asserted, Nordica said: "Next season will be my last on the opera and concert stage, and I expect to come before the public many times in the near future to plead for the cause of woman."

MRS. FRANK GOULD AND CHILDREN, WHO FIGURE ODDLY IN HER DIVORCE

NEW YORK, May 22.—Justice Gerard of New York city has signed an interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Helen Margaret Kelly Gould against Frank J. Gould. The custody of the two children, Helen Margaret and Dorothy, is divided between the father and mother. Mrs. Gould is to have them from December to April, inclusive, each year. Mr. Gould is to have them from May to November, inclusive. During the time each has the custody there is a provision made for visits. The justice devised an ingenious division of the custody of the children. He even divided the Christmas holidays. Next Christmas Mrs. Gould may have the children from 4 p.m. Christmas eve until noon Christmas day; Mr. Gould may have them from noon Christmas day until 10 o'clock the following morning. Christmas, 1910, the order is to be reversed, and so on. This picture of Mrs. Gould and the children was taken at the Lenox (Mass.) garden fête on the day the divorce was granted.

Speaking in Toronto recently, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, the Labrador physician-missionary, outlined his project of erecting in St. John's, Newfoundland, a home for seamen and fishermen. Fishermen have really no place to go if they have no homes, and the doctor's plan is to erect a commodious building, which will be a club as well as a home for these men. The building is to stand two blocks off the water front, in the district frequented by seagoing men, and is to be constructed of selected red brick, with native stone trimmings. Its probable cost will be $100,000. There are to be four floors and a basement, with separate quarters for men and women. Most of the latter are schooner girls and "outdoor" women. In his record of his experiences in the June century Dr. Grenfell will say: "The object of the Labrador mission is to help men to live, and not to die; and so to live as not merely to eke out this earth for a few more years, but to live as worthwhile sons of that great Father whose face we all expect one day to see."

A reception will be given to Thomas H. Barnes, for the past twenty-five years master of the Canton Grammar school, Senior Boston, early next month. Mr. Barnes will retire at the end of the school term. He has been an instructor for thirty-eight years. Previous to becoming master of the grammar school he was a master in the Newbury school, West Fourth and F streets. Miss Anna Louise Smith heads the committee of arrangements for the reception.

Mrs. Russell Sage has contributed $25,000 to the endowment fund being raised for Miss Martha Berry's school for mountain boys near Rome, Ga. The donation comes as a result of the visit of the Oregon party to Rome and their inspection of the institution.

It is reported in Los Angeles that M. E. Huntington is engaged to his uncle's widow, Mrs. C. P. Huntington.

Worcester has increased the salary of Superintendent of Schools Lewis to $4200 a year. His assistant is paid $2000 a year. Worcester has 2700 school children and about 700 teachers.

"For a year or more," writes Consul Frans W. Mahlin, "the Nottingham school authorities have provided meals for pupils whose parents are too poor to feed them sufficiently. About 300 children, representing some 200 families, are now being fed. Arrangements are made with several restaurants to supply breakfast, dinners, or both to children showing poorer parents. Each month approximately 15,000 lbs. of food are equally divided between the pupils and the parents, and supplied, costing probably $4500 about four cents a meal."

SET FREE
JUDGMENT SUSPENDED IN MAN- SLAUGHTER CASE

WORCESTER, May 21.—Suspended judgment because he believed the case came near to being one of self-defence. Judge Edward P. Pierce gave liberty yesterday to John Garities of Hard- wick, after a jury in the superior crim- inal court had found him guilty of manslaughter. Garities was charged with murder in the second degree in killing William A. Goodfield in Hard- wick May 5 by stabbing him after a mix-up in a hotel barroom, where Garities had made himself obnoxious to Goodfield and his friends.

WHITE MAN
ENTITLED TO MORE DAMAGES

THAN NEGRO, SAYS COURT
NEW YORK, May 21.—A negro and a white man do not suffer equal humili- ation in the eyes of the law for false arrest, according to the appellate division of the supreme court, which yes- terday sustained an order of Justice Dugro of the supreme court reducing the amount of damages awarded to George Griffin, a Pullman porter, from $250 to $200.

The negro was arrested in Montreal, charged with stealing a pocketbook, but the charge was not substantiated and he was released. He brought suit against Daniel P. Brady, a New York manufacturer, who caused his arrest, and obtained the $250 verdict. This was set aside and the other relative to it was upheld yesterday.

Justice Dugro said that he would set aside the verdict unless Griffin would consent to its being reduced to $200. Griffin's counsel refused to accept the reduced verdict and Justice Dugro said that no such verdict as $250 would ever stand for a moment in any court for the plaintiff.

SUED FOR $5000

THE COURT ORDERED A VERDICT OF SIX CENTS

NEW YORK, May 22.—After hear- ing the story of the sale of a pho- tograph of Theodore Roosevelt, "sit- ting at his home at Oyster Bay" in an action brought by Peter A. Juley, a pho- tographer, against the Town Topics Publishing Co., Justice Dowling in the supreme court yesterday directed a verdict of six cents for the plaintiff. Juley claimed $5000 damages, on the ground that the publishing company failed to keep an engagement with him to publish the picture in "Fads and Fancies" with his name attached to it. He sold the picture to the Town Topics Co. for $2.00. In directing the verdict, Justice Dowling said that the plaintiff has presented no evidence to show that he had been damaged.

INCOME TAX

AMENDMENTS TO MEASURE TO BE PRESENTED

WASHINGTON, May 22.—It was announced last night that the coalition of democratic senators and "progressive republicans" has been broken so far as the income tax question is concerned, and that amendments to that subject will be presented by both Senators Bailey and Cummins.

Both of these amendments will pro- vide for flat rates of the tax, but they differ on some other important features, particularly the proposed tax on cor- porations. It was stated also upon the highest authority last night, that an agreement has been reached between the finance committee and the support- ers of free lumber by which the duty on dressed lumber shall not be more than 50 cents a thousand above the rate fixed on rough lumber, whatever rate that may be.

LENNOX, BROOKLYN THIRD SACKER, ONE OF THE FINDS OF THE SEASON

BROOKLYN, May 22.—Every year at least one or more young baseball "phenoms" break into fast company, and this season has been no exception—in fact, it has been a remarkable one for the many recruits who have come into the majors and made good. In Edgar Lennox the Brooklyn Nationals have picked up one of these jewels, and he already is the idol of the fans. The club was lucky indeed to land this youngster, and he continues at the fast clip he has been going. He will prove to be the Kolomo of the "rough diamonds." Lennox's batting since he secured a regular berth at third base for the Dodgers has been sensational. He has been swinging the bat at a 400 clip all season, and the beauty of his stroke work is that it has been thrifty. As a fielder he has shown himself remarkably apt. He covers a considerable amount of ground, can get a ball coming to the right or left, and his throwing is accurate and speedy. Run batted balls he has also proved his worth, and his style in tossing them to first while on the run can be compared with the best third sackers in either league.

SHORTSTOP BALL PITCHER SPARKS

Has Been Traded to the Cleveland

Reported to be in Good Shape

CLEVELAND, May 22.—Neil Ball, whom the Cleveland Naps obtained from the New York Americans the other day, is slated to replace Terry Turner at short while the latter's lame arm is given a chance to rest. In the early part of last season Ball electrified the league with his sensational fielding and batting after Elberfeld was injured. Then he fell away in nit-

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—Now that Frank Sparks is once more demonstrating that he is one of the star pitchers of the country Manager Billy Murray of the Philadelphia Nationals figures that his team will about capture the much coveted banner this season. The Phillies have a wonderfully strong array of pitching talent in Moran, McQuillen, Foxen, Ritchie, Brown, Moore, ting and also in fielding. He mixed errors with the most brilliant plays imaginable. This spring Stallings tried Ball at second base, and he made more than good as a fielder, but his batting was far from what was expected. With two such generals as Lajoie and Bradley beside him, Ball should show at his best with Cleveland.

Cleveland, Corridon and Van Dyke. All these men have proved that they are in good shape and ready to take their turn in the box. The most remarkable game that Frank Sparks ever pitched was on Aug. 24, 1903, when the Phillies and Chicago fought with a tie score for 15 innings. Sparks and Rustbach were the opposing pitchers. Rustbach finally winning out in the 20th.

FLEMING FIRED

Manager Not Allowed in Ball Grounds

Manager Tom Fleming of the Lowell team, who had just got together a good team and was ready to give Lowell first class baseball, if permitted to do so, was not only released yesterday, but when he attempted to report at the grounds, under advice from his counsel, he was denied admittance.

The action of President Banwart in releasing Fleming was a complete surprise and evidently grew out of the trouble which arose between the two a few days ago, when Fleming ordered Banwart, or Winn, as he is known on the ball field, off the players' bench. Fleming claimed at that time that his contract gave him a free rein with the players on the field and that he was not to be interfered with. When Winn started to give orders from the bench, Fleming requested him to leave. He declared, and Fleming told the umpire to order him off. The umpire requested him to leave, whereupon Winn stated that he was the manager and not Fleming, and hence he was allowed to remain.

Several of the players met yesterday in local lawyer's office for instructions as to their rights. Most of them came here under the impression that they were to play ball for Fleming, and furthermore some of them claim that they did not get all of their salary on last pay day. The players are with Fleming to a man.

Manager Fleming was instructed by his attorney to report for duty at the grounds yesterday afternoon, for the contract he has with Lowell Baseball association is still in force, not having been violated by him.

When Fleming attempted to enter the grounds yesterday, he was met by the duty of his friend, Doc Edwards, to put up the bars on him. "I don't know what the trouble is, but I was ordered not to allow Tom to enter the grounds, and I obeyed the orders," said Doc Edwards afterward. Fleming didn't make any protest or attempt to purchase a ticket, but simply walked away.

When seen at his hotel by a reporter last evening Mr. Fleming said: "You may say that I haven't got through with the Lowell baseball team, and also that I intend to live in Lowell for some time to come. I have a contract to manage the Lowell team this year, and I have not violated it in any way. The contract provides that I shall have a free rein, and shall have no interference in making up my team or in directing it on the ball grounds. I believe that we have gathered together a good team in Lowell, but results cannot be obtained with outside interference."

President Murnane of the New England league apparently is trying to keep clear of the trouble, but the other managers are protesting, as poor attendances here affect them as much as do to the local management and they dislike playing for the mere guarantee of $50 each time they come here.

Tom Bannon, who succeeds Fleming in right field, has played with Lawrence, Lynn and Brockton in the past few seasons.

FIRST DEFEAT

LAWRENCE HIGH DEFEATED LOWELL, 6 TO 2

Lawrence High defeated Lowell in a loosely played game yesterday, the occasion being Lowell's first defeat.

For Lawrence, Green was a star performer, getting three bases on balls and scoring three runs. For Lowell, Donovan is keeping up his good work, nailing three hard ones in the left garden, and making a grand stand catch of a seeming impossible fly, nailing a man off second base, making a double play unassisted. This was the feature of the game. The score: Lawrence.....1 0 0 1 0 2 0 0 6 Lowell.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 Batteries—Yule and Perkins; Donovan and Faye; Home run—Bannon; Bases on balls—by Donovan 3, by Yule 2. Struck out—by Yule 2, by Donovan 1.

FREDDY WELSH

WON A FAST BOUT WITH JACK GOODWIN

NEW YORK, May 22.—Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, easily won a fast 15 round bout with Jack Goodwin of this city at the Fairmont Athletic club last night. In every one of the rounds there was no question as to his complete superiority. Welsh showed himself a clever fighter with plenty of speed and science, but his blows appear to lack the needed strength. Owing to this alone Goodwin escaped a knockout.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

HELD MEETING AT REV. MR. CRAIG'S RESIDENCE

The annual meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Craig, 3 Belmont street.

The treasurer's report showed the past year to be the best in the history of the auxiliary and prospects are looking brighter all the time. The auxiliary is out, tooth and nail, for a new Y. M. C. A. building and expects to realize a goodly sum.

Yesterday's meeting marked the close of the administration of Mrs. J. M. Craig as president, and she was presented a large cluster of beautiful pink as a slight appreciation of her uniform courtesy during the seven years she has held office.

A picnic is to be held at the home of Mrs. M. E. Fletcher in West Chelmsford on June 9, to celebrate the defeat of the Blues by the Reds in the late membership contest. Those ladies who care to go should telephone or send cards to Mrs. Adelaide Folsom, 215 Appleton street, on or before Wednesday, June 2.

The new list of officers follows: President, Mrs. E. K. Stearns; first vice president, Mrs. B. C. Day; second vice president, Mrs. Russell Fox; treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Woodman; recording secretary, Mrs. C. O. S. Wheeler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Burton Kinney.

After adjournment refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Roy, Mrs. Milo D. Clay, Mrs. Herbert Trull, Mrs. Stanley Chrysler and Mrs. Harry McGuire.

CELEBRATING DEFEAT

VIENNA, May 22.—Festivities in celebration of the centenary of Napoleon's first defeat, when the Austrians under Archduke Charles gained a victory over him at Aspern May 21 and 22, 1809, began here yesterday. Emperor Francis Joseph and ministers of the imperial house delivered speeches.

SLEUTH WHO EXPOSED FRISCO GRAFT

NEW YORK, May 22.—A story that Wm. J. Burns, the shrewd detective who uncovered the San Francisco graft scandals, is working along a similar line in New York city has caused no end of uneasiness in certain officeholding circles in the metropolis. Burns paid a sudden and mysterious visit to Police Commissioner Bingham in response, it is said, to a summons from that official, and the report quickly spread that there was to be a graft sensation forthcoming. It has long been the contention of Commissioner Bingham that outside men who were either unknown or unfriendly to the New York police were needed to stamp out police corruption. Burns is regarded as the ablest man in his line in the United States, and it would not be surprising if he developed a sensation in New York.

MAY FESTIVAL

of Day Nursery

The second night of the May festival in aid of the Day Nursery, which was last night, was even a greater success than was the opening night. The entertainment was all that could be desired and there were few idle seats in Associate hall. The entertainment was followed by general dancing and the bazaar tables, which extend for the entire length of the gallery, were well patronized.

Mrs. Swan; straight whist, first, Mrs. George Caisse; second, Mrs. Pierre L. Brousseau; consolation, Miss Bailey.

The prizes were given by D. J. Ring, George L. Motley, Frank Hanchett and Arthur D. Prince.

The evening entertainment, under the direction of Miss Josephine M. Ockington, opened with a Spanish dance by Miss Mildred Thayer, and it was pretty executed.

The Misses Ruth Emerson, Miriam Warren, Florence Chapman and Marjorie Armstrong appeared in a Greek gallop dance and it was most gracefully given. "Clover little Mildred Bean," five years old, was the "Animated Doll," and she danced like a fairy.

The Irish jig, jauntily costumed, was a rattling good number, which was given with snap and spirit. Those who took part were: Douglas Buchanan, Bernice Russell, Marion McEvoy, Howard Robinson, Kathleen Stanley, Mabel Savage, William Atwood, Dorothy Colburn, Lillian Abbott.

Another hit was the Pickaninies, who were gorgeously dressed black children who did a regular Southern breakdown. They were: George Chapman, Della Parkhurst, Winslow George, Vivian Parkhurst, Herbert Ross, Dorothy Emerson, Morton Pickard, Esther Whitman.

Miss Hazel Chamberlain did an original Pierrot number, and was the best in the folk dance, a lively and animated specialty that introduced Misses Mildred Deas, Mildred Akers, Jane Fleming, Gladys Parsons, Margaret Chiffon, Louise Cummings.

At one time the stage was entirely filled with Scotch Highlanders. They were:

Master Warren Pickard, Misses Geraldine Barbour and Della Parkhurst, Master Elmer Hill, Misses Dorothy Bean and Josephine Higgins, Master George Chapman, Misses Dorothy Emerson and Pauline Worden, Master Ray Richard, Misses Esther Whitman and Dorothy Hall.

Miss Esther Mulgrave, in pretty costume, gave her Oriental dance and Baby Chaloux and Francis Calain pleased with their song "Meet Me in Love Time." Master Willie Davis gave a capital imitation of Harry Lauder.

Then the program concluded with a highly original number, two Greek national dances by four men from the Greek colony in their native dress. Their own musicians furnished music for them.

Tonight a special drill will be given by the high school girls, and the officers of the school regiment will manage the dancing.

STRIKE ENDED

LEADERS BLAME EACH OTHER FOR FAILURE

PAID, May 22.—The curtain was rung down yesterday upon the general strike, amid recriminations by the leaders, who tried to throw the responsibility for the failure upon each other and the defeated postal employees. The end came when a few hundred laborers voted to resume work. The General Federation of Labor then threw up the sponge and issued a manifesto in which they seek to cover up their retreat, explaining that the postal employees were over-confident of the success of their second strike, which everything shows was premature and was investigated by the government, and it was necessary of the organization for averting itself against the leaders of the first strike.

Does Your Hair
Get Full of Dust
When You Ride
In An Automobile?

Much of the dust and dirt stirred up by automobiles settles upon the hair and scalp of those who ride in them. At the end of every trip an automobilist's hair needs to be thoroughly washed, but the common mistake of using common soap ought to be avoided. Common soap contains too much alkali and robs the hair and scalp of their natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and dry and the scalp rough. If the hair be washed often with soaps containing excess alkali, it is only a question of time until the hair begins to fall out. People who ride in automobiles, as well as those who don't, are strongly urged to try Birt's Head Wash for cleansing the hair and scalp. This is as good a preparation as present-day science can produce. It is made of Refined Soap, Cocoon Cocaine Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid. No other ingredient is used. Any doctor, druggist or scientist who knows anything about a proper cleanser for the hair will tell you there are no better ingredients known. You can use Birt's Head Wash every day, and your hair will improve and grow naturally. It is of great benefit in such troubles as Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair. Birt's Head Wash has wonderful cleansing properties. Wash your hair with soaps or shampoos as hard as you please, and then wash it again with Birt's Head Wash, and you will be astonished how much more dirt and dust will be taken from your head. There is no secret about this preparation, so no one need hesitate about using it. Why use secret fakes and frauds on your hair, when you can use Birt's Head Wash and know exactly what it is made of? Price 50c.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE

Makes a Strong Appeal for World's Peace

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 22.—With an imposing array of speakers, the fifteenth annual meeting of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration concluded its deliberations last night.

The speakers included the Rt. Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador; Alfred Mosely of London; Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri;

At any rate not hinder peace and not inflame passion. Thus we come back to the people, that is to ourselves, the ordinary citizens who are the ultimate masters both of the government and of the press.

At this moment, all the governments in the great military and naval states are (I venture to believe) earnestly desirous of peace. Not one of them has any cause for war. Not one of them but would lose by war far more than it could gain. Yet, it is apparent, possible for those who desire, from whatever motives, to stir up suspicion and enmity to succeed in convincing each nation that the other has designs upon it.

"Would not a better knowledge of each nation by the other nations do something to dispel these suspicions?"

"Thirty or forty years ago there was a good deal of this suspicion between Britain and the United States. One of the reasons for this was the fact that knowledge by each nation of the other has extinguished that feeling and substituted for it a genuine friendship which will, we may feel sure, at once recur to arbitration for the settlement of any question that may arise. Why should this not be done as regards the other powers also?"

Alfred Mosely's speech was less reserved than the diplomatic utterances of those who preceded him. He arrived at the conference yesterday after a trip from South Africa, and when he spoke last night he threw aside the public opinion both in Germany and England, the very talk of signs of trouble between them.

"No man who has any feeling of responsibility can view the possibility of a war without a shudder. One regrets even in the delicate state of public opinion both in Germany and England, the very talk of signs of trouble between them."

After speaking of the ever increasing naval program, he continued:

"It is a serious problem, one that I think we all strongly feel at the bottom of our hearts endangers the peace of the world. But we in England, are agreed, and agreed on both sides of the house of commons, as to the necessity of keeping our navy up to the highest pitch of efficiency."

At this point the speaker took up the causes which lead to war, and feeding between the two countries, beginning with the now famous interview of the German emperor.

"I believe," he said, "that the German emperor means well for his own country and the world at large, but these utterances cause suspicion and have given rise to discussion in the house of commons resulting in the increase in the navy."

"Now it is proposed by some that Mr. Taft take the initiative in saying something to England and to Germany. But I am not at all sure that Mr. Taft would care to undertake that task if he does, may I suggest that he turn his attention to Germany."

"England has proposed to Germany to come to some understanding in regard to armaments, but has received no response. England is willing and she has shown her willingness to limit or reduce her armament providing other nations, Germany especially, would do the same. And if Mr. Taft would bring about that happy state of things, I am sure England would be most grateful."

MRS. MORSE'S CHARGE

Says Prominent People Vowed They Would Ruin Her Husband

NEW YORK, May 22.—Mrs. Clemence Morse, wife of Charles W. Morse, the former banker, asserted in an interview today that long ago persons high in power vowed that they would ruin her husband and that they have kept their vow against justice and truth. Mrs. Morse declared that government officials had boasted also that they would cause Morse's downfall, but she said she did not then believe the courts could be used as a party to the plans of her husband's enemies.

"How many people know that my husband paid every dollar to every depositor in the Bank of North America?" she asked, adding, "Of an indebtedness of $7,000,000, more than $7,000,000 has been paid, and if Mr. Morse had his

SUPREME COURT BIG TRACK MEET

Hands Down Decision At St. John's School on June 17

BOSTON, May 22.—The fact that a divorce has been granted through perjured testimony or other frauds perpetrated on the court does not constitute sufficient cause for vacating the divorce decree, according to a ruling handed down today by the full bench of the Massachusetts supreme court. The decision was made in the case of Grace E. Steinhilber against her former husband, Adolph Steinhilber. In the superior court before Judge Fessenden the husband was given a decree of divorce. The wife later convinced the court that the husband had obtained the decree through perjured testimony and other forms of alleged fraud. Judge Fessenden vacated the decree but the husband appealed to the supreme court.

BETWEEN MAYOR

And Counsel for Police Board at Hearing Today

Lawyers Bent and Johnson Laid Down the Law to Mayor Brown, Reading Judges' Decisions and Then Told Him He Might Overrule These Judges if He Saw Fit, But the Respondents Would Not Answer Questions Foreign to the Charges—Mr. Hanson Got off Easily—Secretary MacBrayne in Rebuttal—Monday Will See the Last Act in This Municipal Farce

The mayor's police board hearing wound up in argumentative wrangle yesterday, and when it was resumed shortly after 10 o'clock this forenoon, prosecutor Stearns just one question which had to do with the salaries of the three commissioners. The chairman receives $1200 a year and the other two members $1000 each.

In reply to questions by Mr. Bent, the chairman of the police board explained what had been done by the board relative to the arrest and conviction of "hippers" so-called.

Mr. Stearns said that the board was particularly anxious to get the supreme court's definition of the word "guilt."

The Minor Cases

Mr. Stearns said that no information had ever reached the board through official channels relative to sale to minors. He said that Mr. Kennedy came to him and showed him the letter which he had received from Mrs. Condon of Braintree.

He said the board made such investigations of the minor cases as to satisfy it that it would be best to let the matter alone. He said that the letter in question influenced the board to a certain extent in arriving at its conclusion.

Mr. Stearns was asked relative to an application for a liquor license made by Mr. Williams or in his behalf and he said he never heard of Mr. Williams except through cross-examination.

Mayor Brown and Mr. Bent in Tilt

Mayor Brown asked Mr. Stearns if the board had written the secretary of state between December, 1907, and November, 1908, asking for summaries of common victuallers' laws.

Mr. Bent advised his client, Mr. Stearns, not to answer the question, because that it was not included in the charges or specifications.

The mayor said that the board was on trial before him and he considered it his privilege to get from the board what knowledge he could relative to the action in office of the respondents. "I can ask any question up to March 17," said the mayor.

"You have to ask what is included in the charges or specifications," said Mr. Bent. "Your honor has filed no charge or specification that is in keeping with this question, and I want to know if this is the attitude Your Honor purposes to maintain."

The mayor—"My question is not included in the charges, but I deem it my privilege to ask questions that are not included. I am entitled to what information that it is possible for me to obtain, and I claim this right under section 19 of chapter 187 of Acts and Resolves."

Mr. Bent—"It would be an outrage to law and decency were you to oblige me to answer to questions that are not included in the charges which you preferred against them."

"It has never been done in any civilized court in the world and will not be done for the first time in a Massachusetts court."

The mayor—"I should think the members of the police board would be glad of the opportunity to answer my questions; to enlighten me as much as possible."

Mr. Bent—"You can get from the board members, in private conference, any information that you desire, but not for use at this public hearing."

Mr. Johnson then arose, and asked to be heard on the question of the admissibility of such evidence as the mayor was attempting to have admitted. He read from the cases of Dow vs. Carey, and McEvoy vs. Farnham, and from Judge Bell's words in a police board case, in which he said he would disregard certain matters not covered by charges or specifications.

The mayor was not anxious to hear Mr. Johnson, but the latter read from Judge Hitchcock in the Dow-Carey case, and said to the mayor:

"Perhaps if you do not care to hear me, you will care to hear what Judge Hitchcock had to say in a case that was identical with the one in hand."

Having finished reading a compilation of decision by judges of superior courts, Mr. Johnson, returning this book to the table, said: "Now, if Your Honor sees fit you may overrule the judges of our superior courts."

Mr. Stearns Refuses to Answer

The mayor insisted on an answer to the objectionable question. He asked Mr. Stearns to answer and Mr. Bent said: "Cause a moment please. Mr. Stearns will not answer that question unless he overrules his attorney."

The mayor insisted upon an answer and Mr. Stearns, rising, said:

"I cannot overrule the order of my counsel and therefore I must decline to answer."

Ex-City Solicitor Hill

James Gilbert Hill, former city solicitor, was called in rebuttal, counsel for the prosecution explaining that it might be impossible for Mr. Hill to be present on Monday.

"During the year 1908 did you have any conferences with the board of police?" was asked.

"Periodically, but I am in doubt as to whether or not," he answered.

STRANGE PRAYER

COPY RECEIVED BY A LOCAL BUSINESS MAN

The following note, rather extraordinary in character, reached a very prominent business man in this city through the mails yesterday, and he is wondering from where it came:

"An Ancient Prayer"

"Lord Jesus, bless all mankind and deliver us from evil things. Thy blood!"

To this prayer the following is appended:

"The following is a prayer that if a person will write this prayer and send it to nine different friends that one will receive some great joy, but if you do not you will experience some great calamity."

The business man says he is going to take chances on the calamity. He looks upon this note as another "booby" letter. The note was unsigned.

Miss Keller refers to his providing her with a college education and says: "Whenever my teacher and I were perplexed or in need of advice, he brought his own insight and decision to our aid. OVERCOME BY GAS

Lowell Man's Experience In a Turkish Bath

Bill Mastsa had a narrow escape from being asphyxiated at the Turkish baths at 463 Market street, having mistaken a gas jet for a water jet.

Mastsa has been in the habit of calling at the baths every Saturday and this noon when he was assigned to one of the bath rooms he turned on the heater, evidently mistaking it for the cock to turn on the water.

A strong odor of gas permeating the place attracted the attention of the management and an examination resulted in the finding of Mastsa in an unconscious condition on the floor.

The ambulance was summoned and Mastsa was taken to the Lowell hospital where he soon revived.

MAN FOUND DYING

The Police Investigated Story of Alleged Foul Play

Peter Rusecki, aged 37 years, was found in a dying condition at the foot of the stairs leading to his tenement at 23 Davidson street about 1.30 o'clock this morning and died several hours later. Death was due to an accident, and despite the fact that there were rumors current to the effect that he had met with foul play, an investigation on the part of the police failed to show any foundation for the rumor.

The reason for thinking that there was foul play was because when he was first seen he was lying in the hallway on the second floor and a few minutes later was found at the bottom of the flight of stairs on the first floor. The police explain this by stating that the man was asleep when seen on the second floor and that while the two men who had found him there, were looking for a lamp, the unfortunate man awoke and being unable to collect his scattered senses, walked to the foot of stairs leading to the first floor, where he fell. His head fell forward and he was fatally injured.

Rusecki is employed by P. Kelly & Son, liquor dealers in Davidson street, and by lives on the third floor of the same building. Shortly before midnight last night he was in conversation with two police officers who patrol in that vicinity and after leaving the officers he proceeded to the lunch cart at the corner of Elm and Market and Stockpote grounds.

As they were about to separate and go to their rooms they heard groans coming from the direction of the hall below and going down stairs found Rusecki lying at the foot of the first flight of stairs. The man was bleeding profusely.

The two men carried Rusecki to his tenement on the third floor and two physicians were summoned, but despite the fact that they did everything in their power, death resulted about nine o'clock. The body was then taken to the funeral parlors of Joseph Albert in Cheever street.

In speaking of the matter the police state that they feel certain the death of the man was due to accident and that the rumors relative to foul play are groundless.

ATHLETIC MEET STOCK MARKET

Dartmouth Has the Most Entries Today's Quotations on Active Stocks

BOSTON, May 22.—Their ardor to uphold the athletic prowess of their several colleges undampened by the showers which have made the track at Technology field heavy, the survivors of yesterday's elimination heats of the 224 annual championship meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic association together with those athletes who had been left over were expected to score sufficient points to place them beyond the reach of the most aspiring among the other colleges. With the mile and two mile runs conceded to Colby and Stoughton, respectively, of Bowdoin and with that college represented among the qualifiers of yesterday it was expected that the individual scoring propensities of Captain Horrax of Williams would be offset and the Maine institution get second place. The scramble for stray points at an intercollegiate meeting is ever an interesting one and sometimes has resulted in an overthrow of apparently well founded predictions. Although no such surprise was expected today the ranks of Amherst, Brown, Wesleyan and Maine, somewhat thinned to be sure after yesterday's eliminations, might possibly yield the unexpected place that would send those colleges to a place nearer the front than that generally allotted them by the forecasters. This might also be true in a lesser degree in the remaining athletes of Tufts, Trinity and Vermont. Holy Cross was relegated yesterday to oblivion so far as scoring is concerned for having failed to qualify even a single man in their first entry to the association's activities.

In addition to the tries to the mile and two mile runs and the 100 yards dash the number of men from each college eligible to compete in today's final events was as follows: Dartmouth 13, Williams 11, Technology 11, Amherst 7, Wesleyan 5, Maine 4, Brown 4, Tufts 2, Vermont 1, Trinity 1.

CHARLES H. HANSON

to the nature of the conferences. They came to see individually and collectively," said Mr. Hill.

"Were you consulted as to what a guest was?"

"I could not say."

"Did you at any time say to any member of the board or to the board collectively, when asked as to what a guest was, that the board knew just as much about the law as you did?"

"No, sir."

Commissioner Hanson

At 11:30 Commissioner Hanson was called and Mr. Burke began his direct examination of him.

He said that his answers would be the same, substantially, as those given by Mr. Boulger and Mr. Stearns.

Counsel for the prosecution was willing to accept Mr. Hanson's statement to the effect that his answers would be the same, substantially, as those made by Commissioners Boulger and Stearns.

Mayor Brown asked Mr. Hanson if he had knowledge of written notices being sent to real estate owners about premises where licenses were applied for.

Mr. Hanson, acting under advice of counsel, refused to answer, and he was excused.

The mayor then called for Clerk Flaherty of the police board and asked him the same question.

All of counsel for the respondents objected and the mayor then called upon the board to instruct Clerk Flaherty to answer, but by order of counsel they refused to so instruct the clerk, and the incident was closed.

At 11:45 a recess was declared and prosecuting counsel for the mayor said that he would finish with testimony in rebuttal at 1 o'clock.

Rev. Fr. Jacques Matter Expunged

The hearing was resumed at 12 o'clock.

Prosecuting counsel in opening asked privilege to make a few personal remarks and offered a motion to the effect that all questions asked Mr. Stearns relative to a conversation he had had with Fr. Jacques Matter be stricken from the records.

Prosecuting counsel for the mayor had said that Dr. Bertrand was a witness to the conversation between Mr. Stearns and Fr. Jacques Matter and he announced that Dr. Bertrand had been subpoenaed to appear, but was not on hand, and for that reason he asked to have all reference to the matter stricken from the records. Mayor Brown ordered it stricken out.

Elie Delisle in Rebuttal

Elie Delisle was called in rebuttal. He was asked if Richard Taft had polished his floors and he said he did.

He was asked relative to a conversation he had had with Mr. Taft in which it was purported that witness said the mayor had promised him a liquor license.

Mr. Delisle denied that he had ever made the statement that Mayor Brown had promised him a license and he said he never told Mr. Taft that the mayor sent him down to measure the street, Tucker street, to see if his stores were too near the school house for the granting of a liquor license.

On cross-examination Mr. Delisle, in reply to questions by Mr. Bent, said the school house in Tucker street was about 150 feet from his piano store. His other store, he said, is a furniture store. He has other buildings in the same street—six others.

Witness said he had had some conversation with Mr. Taft relative to the municipal candidates, Brown and Casey.

They were the men who were running for mayor," said Mr. Bent.

"I suppose so," said Mr. Delisle.

"Did you make $75,000 in the furniture business in Tucker street?"

"You want to know how much. You want to know about my business."

"I was only curious to know if you had made $75,000," said Mr. Bent.

Witness admitted that he had talked with Mr. Taft relative to a license.

Mr. Bent: Did you say to me in a corridor of this building that you had had a conversation with Candidate Brown, relative to a liquor license?"

Witness refused to answer.

The mayor instructed witness to answer, but he did not answer up to the time that Mr. Bent had finished with him.

On rebuttal examination witness was asked:

"Did Mr. Hanson tell you not to come up here and testify?"

"He said then Mr. Bent wanted to see me."

"After you told Mr. Bent what you were asked to come up here and testify and didn't Mr. Hanson tell you not to come here?"

"Yes, Mr. Hanson did."

"And he asked you not to come up here?"

"Yes."

"Was it this Mr. Hanson?" asked Mayor Brown.

"He is a lawyer in this city," was the answer.

Continued counsel for the prosecution asked:

"Did you tell us what conversation you had with Mr. Bent relative to a license?"

"Just a moment," objected Mr. Bent.

Mayor Brown: "If he will tell it now I will admit it. If he has changed his mind and wants to tell the conversation I can do so, for we want the whole truth here."

Witness then went on to answer the question by stating: "I told Mr. Bent that I had had some talk with Mr. Brown about a license. I was with Desrosiers. If he was here you could hear what he had to say. I never asked him for a license. He (the mayor) said that Father Garin was always against the granting of a license in Little Canada. I would have no license anyway. If they gave me one, Mr. Brown said that some of the priests were against licenses in Little Canada and he said he would not give a license to anyone in that place."

"You told Mr. Bent that before Mr. Taft testified here?"

"I don't know."

Mr. Bent: "If he evidently meant Desrosiers got a license who was going to pay for it?"

"I don't know."

"You were not?"

"No, sir."

"He never said anything to you about it?"

"No."

"How did you happen to be present?"

"I was there with him."

"Did you know what they were going to talk about?"

"They were talking about a license in Little Canada."

MacBrayne Again

Winifred C. MacBrayne, secretary to Mayor Brown, was at this point called in rebuttal.

He was asked: "You know Richard Taft who was a witness here?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever have a talk with Taft in which you stated that he would be appointed license commissioner?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever have any talk with Taft relative to certain police officers that would be discharged from the police force?"

"No, sir."

"Do you remember the testimony of Mr. Taft—the two reporters, one from the Courier-Citizen and the other from The Sun—Paradis and Powers?"

"Yes, sir."

"Will you tell all the conversation about the license, wrestling match, etc.?"

"Mr. Powers of The Sun and Mr. Paradis of the Courier-Citizen came in the morning, as was their usual custom. The mayor and I were present. Some discussion arose about an article which appeared in The Sun and the Courier-Citizen in which the mayor had been misquoted, and things which had been printed that were not true. The mayor had criticised these two newspapers for not writing news as they found it."

"He (the mayor) said, 'All that I desire from you fellows is a fair show. I am trying to treat you squarely in giving you the news from this office and I will be perfectly satisfied with a fair show.' Paradis said, 'I have always tried to give you a fair show, but have to obey orders at the office. I think that Powers gave the same answer.'"

"Paradis then in a joking manner brought up about the wrestling license."

Lawyer Bent objected to the use of the word "joking" being used.

Resuming he said: "He (Paradis) began to speak about wrestling matches. He said, 'I don't care what you do, as long as you succeed in firing Moffatt. He stopped me from getting my wrestling license.' The mayor said, 'That happens it was done because you faked the bouts.' He then said, 'I will approve of everything that you do if it is on the level.'"

"Powers then said: 'What chance have I got to get a license?' He said it in a joking manner."

"That has been ruled out," said Mr. Bent.

"It has not been stricken out, quickly responded counsel for the prosecution."

"I ask your Honor to strike it out," said Mr. Bent.

"I will have to decline to do so," said the mayor. "We want fairness, justice and truth."

"Save me an exception," said Mr. Bent.

When witness resumed with his testimony he interpreted the word "joking" at every opportunity possible, even going so far as to use the word so many times that it made his testimony appear as though he wanted to give the defense to understand that he had secured a signal victory.

Witness then went on to tell that after the license had been spoken of, the mayor said: "You and Paradis might be a pretty good bag to go into last night."

"I suggested that they take it out in someone else's name."

Mr. MacBrayne was asked relative to the Taft matter, and he told of a conversation he had had with him in which he declared Taft said to him that he had a brother who had gone down to a doctor's grave and he was seeking an opportunity to get back.

The new dormitory at the County Truant school will be built by C. F. and J. B. Varnum of this city.

The county commissioners at their office this morning opened the bids for the construction of the new building and found nine bidders, all comparatively close in their estimates.

The bids were as follows:

C. F. and J. B. Varnum	$33,800
Cyrus Barton	$34,200
P. O'Hearn	$33,957
T. W. Johnson	$34,320
James H. Walker	$36,000
Conover Bros.	$36,450
James Whitely	$34,839
William Drapeau	$35,867
A. B. Mordough	$42,420

When one considers the fact that in job of this extent that the bidders in eight cases out of the nine have a maximum difference between highest and lowest of only $2650, he must come to the conclusion that Lowell has some expert figurers in the building trades.

A. H. Mordough is a Boston concern. All the others are in Lowell.

RIGHTS OF STATE EMPLOYES

PARIS, May 22.—The cabinet today approved the text of a bill defining the rights of state employees. This measure gives them the benefit of the law of associations for mutual beneficial and professional purposes and it regulates promotion on the double system of merit and seniority.

The differences between Premier Clemenceau and Minister of Justice Bryard have been compromised. The minister retains the final decision in the matter of inflicting punishment on state employees, but he may act only upon reports from the councils of discipline. The bill provides specifically for the suspension of all guarantees in case of a strike.

THE NAVAL AIDES

May be Charged With Smuggling Admiral Uriu into This Country

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 22.—Were the naval aides appointed to meet Admiral Uriu guilty of smuggling the famous Japanese sea fighter, the harness, his wife, their baggage and their valet into this country? This is the question that has been agitating federal official circles ever since Captain Eberle, commandant of the Yerba Buena training station, in his before the formalities of the custom inspectors to welcome the distinguished visitors on behalf of the army and navy, took them from the Nippon Maru yesterday without the formality of first obtaining the consent of Boarding Officer Stephens and the personal representative of collector of the Port Frederick Stratton, who in the present case also claimed to be the personal representative of the president of the United States.

Now Stratton claims that Eberle has laid himself open to a fine of $1000 each for landing the admiral and his wife before the formalities of the custom service had been complied with. Collector of the Port Stratton reported the matter to Washington and the outcome is awaited with interest.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The report of the committee on ministerial relief and that of the Presbyterian brotherhood took up the attention of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church this forenoon. This afternoon the commissioners visited Westminster college and there was no business session. In the evening there will be a meeting in behalf of the brotherhood movement.

ANNUAL REGATTA

THE AMERICAN HENLEY HELD ON THE SCHUYLKILL

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—Weather conditions early today could hardly be worse for the annual regatta of the American Rowing association on the Schuylkill river. The wind was blowing 25 miles an hour sending the rain along in sheets at times. Unseasonable temperature also prevailed, the thermometer thermometer early today registering 42 degrees.

The entries for today's regatta are among the best received by the stewards of the association. The races were one mile, 500 yards, corresponding to the distance of the English Henley course. The row for junior eight attracted the most attention. The crews entered in this event are Harvard, Cornell and Pennsylvania. The Harvard crew is also entered in the first eight-oared shell race. NIGHT EDITION

MAY BE MURDER

Body of a Man Was Found at Pownall, Vt.

POWNALL, Vt., May 22.—The body of Oscar Turner, a farm-hand, who was supposed to have been murdered on April 27, was found in the Hootie river here today. Since April 18 Thomas Harris and his wife, James Pratt and Frank Moon have been held in Bennington jail on charges of felonious assault, and it is understood that these charges will now be changed to something more serious.

Turner's cap to which adhered fragments of scalp and hair was found floating in the mill pond which has an outlet into the river, on April 18. An investigation developed the allegation that the Harris, Pratt and Moon had been seen in a struggle with Turner on the previous night. The police claimed that Turner was left unconscious on the bank of the pond and that upon recovering partial consciousness he fell into the water and was drowned.

It was also discovered that on the afternoon of April 27 Turner drew between $70 and $74 from a North Adams bank intending to leave here on April 19 for California where he had a sister living. The body of Turner was found 150 rods below the place where the mill pond has its outlet into the river.

NEGRO FIREMEN

Have Been Roughly Handled by the Strike Sympathizers

ATLANTA, Ga., May 22.—The strike firemen have been roughly handled at some of these points. Following the open threat of the officials of the firemen's organization to extend the strike to every road in the south and continue the fight until every negro fireman has been replaced by a white man, comes the rumor today that there is a possibility of the engineers being drawn into the fight. This morning General Manager Scott of the Georgia railway announced that he had been notified by E. A. THE ARGUMENTS

In Cowley Case to be Made Monday

Arguments in the Cowley case will be heard before Auditor Hammond in the probate court room at the local court house in Gorham street on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. William H. Wilson will argue for the Cowley estate, City Solicitor William W. Duncan for the city of Lowell and Frank E. Dunbar for the Locks and Carals.

The hearing of this case came to a conclusion recently after a series of hearings which covered several years, and there were over 3000 typewritten pages of testimony taken.

City Solicitor Duncan has an especially hard task before him in arguing this case, as the case for the city was conducted by ex-City Solicitor Hill. The testimony to a great extent has to do with the views of experts on hydraulic engineering and bacteria.

SEN. HALE OBJECTS

To Taking Up Business Other Than Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The senate today reiterated its determination to do no business in the way of legislation while the tariff bill is pending. The refusal came in response to a request from Senator Burton to adopt a resolution authorizing the expenditure of unexpended balance of appropriations for river and harbor work. He brought in a report of the committee on commerce in support of his resolution and made an earnest plea for action at this time. He, however, met a stern objection from Senator Hale of the committee on finance and when after a time there seemed a possibility that Mr. Hale's yielding, Senator Clapp said that if Mr. Hale did not stand by his objection he (Mr. Clapp) would insist upon making one of his own.

SENATOR BAILEY

Showed That He Was Somewhat Ruffled

WASHINGTON, May 22.—That Senator Bailey was still smarting today under some of the wrongs which he thought had been inflicted on him in the senate yesterday was made evident when he entered the chamber early today. Just before adjournment yesterday he had again unavailingly sought to obtain an agreement to vote upon an income tax amendment to the tariff bill and this failure was immediately followed by another which consisted in the refusal on the part of the senate to adjourn over from Friday till Monday.

Today while Mr. Burton was making a plea for rivers and harbors, Mr. Bailey entered the senate and demanded a call for a quorum. According to senate rules the mere mention of the absence of a quorum is all that is necessary immediately to precipitate a call of the senate and there was some astonishment when the proceeding was not immediately ordered. Not only did Senator Burton continue his remarks, but even while he was speaking Mr. Hale turned and made a plea to Mr. Bailey to allow the river and harbor committee to be completed before insisting on his point.

"No," responded the Texas senator shaking his head.

The call revealed the presence of 51 senators and business was allowed to go on.

Senator Lodge and the Tariff

During the tariff discussion of the past week in the United States senate, Senator Lodge of Maine charged the tea retailers of this country of extorting and said "that tea which is admitted free in this country is sold here at an advance of 300, 400 and 500 per cent on the wholesale price."

Senator Lodge said "that tea selling at 16c a pound in this country is retailed at 60c a lb."

This is absolutely correct in most cases. Why continue such extravagance when we sell these goods at a fair margin of profit? No stamps, tickets, rockers or humbug.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Daly, Sharrett, Jim Connors, Fleming and Barnum. Five managers, all with the same milestone around their necks, have tried to give Lowell baseball in a little more than one season. At present Bannan, the fifth victim, is trying it.

Baseball conditions in Lowell have certainly reached a critical state.

The discharge of Tom Fleming was a sad mistake. Fleming is a good man. He had gotten together a good team, and could have made a success of the team if let alone.

Doc Unice was obliged to perform a surgical stunt on himself yesterday, for he was spiked in the leg.

Unice had eight chances without an error at short.

Joe Boyle put up a great game behind the bat. It was useless to try to steal on him.

When Delave doesn't feel like pitching, instead of quitting like some pitchers do, he starts a fight with the umpire and gets put out of the game. Yesterday he did not seem to kick, but the weather was cold and he succeeded in getting chased. As soon as he was dressed he went into the grandstand and proceeded to make one of those things of himself, yelling at the umpire.

Could Lowell hit him? Knitzer.

Was it lost mit Woullleben yet? He's at right, pretty.

Doc Fickett's Roxbury Crossing Deutsche will come in handy in Lawrence.

Mickey Flynn is still with the Lawrence team, and Haverhill's $700 offer for him was only that kind of offer we frequently hear in Lowell. You need a dream book to cash them.

The Lowell Athletics will play two games Memorial day, and will put up a strong team.

PAID FINAL TRIBUTE

To Memory of Henry H. Rogers,

the Deceased Financier

FAIRHAVEN, May 22.—Fairhaven, the birthplace of Henry H. Rogers, today paid final tribute to the memory of the deceased financier. In their expression of grief at Mr. Rogers' death his fellow townsmen were sincere, for throughout his entire life the capitalist had enjoyed the affection, admiration and respect of the Fairhaven people. Proud of his success in the industrial world, grateful because of his benefactions to his native town and cherishing him as a personal friend, the residents of the village united today in giving expressions of respect for him. From 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 4 o'clock in the afternoon all business was suspended. Drapings of some of the black hung from all the public buildings, most of which had been presented to Fairhaven by Mr. Rogers during his lifetime, and throughout the town flags were set at half mast. Everywhere there were evidences of the sincere grief of the townspeople at the death of Mr. Rogers, who was esteemed most highly here because of his benefactions, his interest in the town and its people, his genial personality and his warm friendship for every person in the village.

The funeral party arrived here on a special train from New York last night and the body of the capitalist was taken to his summer home at Fort Phoenix. This afternoon it was carried to the Unitarian Memorial church, which was built by Mr. Rogers several years ago as a tribute of affection for his mother. In this imposing Gothic edifice the casket was placed before the altar and was attended by a guard composed of members of two Masonic lodges, George H. Taber lodge of Fairhaven, to which Mr. Rogers had presented a Masonic hall, and Star in the East lodge of New Bedford, of which the financier had been an active member for more than forty years.

A cold northeast rain storm set in during the night and during the forenoon a drenching rain fell. The half-masted flags clung stickily to their poles as a result of the drapings on the public buildings. Banks and the Tack Co. plant, which was owned by Mr. Rogers, hung in sodden folds. Because of the storm several individuals who had planned to drap their residences in mourning were forced to abandon the idea. It was feared also that the storm would interfere with the massing of the school children in Cushman park as the cortege proceeded from the church to the cemetery.

At 10 o'clock the doors of the church were thrown open and for an hour there was a procession of silent school children passing by the casket in which stood the form familiar to and beloved by all the children in the town. From 11 a. m. till 1 p. m. the residents of the town were admitted to the church and permitted to gaze upon the features of the dead. Many of them had known Mr. Rogers from his earliest boyhood. He had been his schoolmates while some had enjoyed the privilege of a lifelong intimacy. All were greatly affected by the occasion, while tears flowed down many cheeks and sobs shook many forms. The church was closed to the public at 1 p. m. and from that time on no one was admitted except on presentation of a ticket. The distribution of which had been limited to members of the Rogers family and personal friends.

Beginning at 2 p. m. and continuing till the hour of the funeral services, a program of the favorite hymns of Mr. Rogers was played on the Memorial church chimes. Among the selections

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN

Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them.

When the back aches and throbs, When housework is torture, When night brings no rest nor sleep, When urinary disorders set in, Women's lot is a weary one. There is a way to escape these woes. Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills. Have cured women here in Lowell. This is one Lowell woman's testimony:

Mrs. Wm. Bamber, living at 32 Bridge street, Lowell, Mass., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly, having used them with the best of success. Backache, and pains across my loins were especially severe in the morning and made it difficult for me to attend to my housework. Every time I stooped to lift anything I was rewarded with sharp pains through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured a short time ago from Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, strengthened my kidneys and relieved my aches and pains. My husband has also used them with the best of results."

LIGHT INFANTRY

Thirteen Survivors Met at New American

Thirteen members of the Richardson Light Infantry met at the New American House last night and talked over old times. The Richardson Light Infantry company was mustered into active service in Boston nearly a half century ago. The few remaining members of the company are scattered far and wide. Those who were unable to attend the reunion last night sent letters of regret.

The feature of last night's meeting was the formal mustering into the company of a number of the sons of veterans who were invited there as guests but who came away comrades. The sons of the veterans will perpetuate the spirit of the company and an effort will be made to locate every son of the company.

The regular business meeting of the association was held before the banquet and the board of government was re-elected for the coming year. It consists of Samuel W. Benson, Morton N. Peabody and W. H. Worcester.

HON. GEORGE F. RICHARDSON President

Worcester later in the evening, resigned, and W. N. Goodell, one of the new members, was elected unanimously to take his place.

Hon. George F. Richardson was again elected president, Francis T. Wilson, vice-president, and Charles H. Brigham, secretary and treasurer. The banquet was followed by speeches, stories and reminiscences. Dr. W. H. Ruddick of Boston, an invited guest, was the first speaker.

He paid a glowing tribute to the late Charles W. Brigham, who was "mustered out" last year. Other speakers included Lawrence Cummings, James W. Beane, Samuel W. Benson of Charlestown, Henry L. Gardner of Springfield, Greenleaf C. Brock of this city, W. N. Goodell of this city, and others.

Sam. George F. Richardson, the organizer of the company, was able to be there a few minutes to greet his old friends, and was accompanied by his grandson, George Jefferson.

Those present last night were the following: First Lieut. Wm. E. Farrar, Lowell; Sergt. W. Henry Worcester, Lowell; Colorbearer Chas. H. Fillett, Boston; James W. Beane, West Somerville; Samuel W. Benson, Charlestown; Franklin French, Lowell; Charles Frost, Lowell; Henry L. Gardner, Springfield; Morton N. Peabody, Lowell; Emmons B. Sargent, Boston; James Schofield, North Grafton; Geo. N. Thissell, Methuen; Francis T. Wilson, Lowell.

The invited guests were Dr. W. H. Ruddick, Boston; W. A. Baton, Lawrence; Greenleaf C. Brock, Lowell; Geo. Jefferson, Lowell; Lawrence Cummings, Lowell; and the sons of the veterans: Arthur F. Wilson, Boston; W. N. Goodell, Lowell; A. G. McCurdy, Lowell; Leonard Worcester, Boston; Edward W. Brigham, Lowell; Charles R. Brigham, Lowell.

The Richardson Light Infantry company was organized April 19, 1861, and was sworn into the United States service at Boston on May 21, 1861.

SUICIDE PACT

Is Feared by Mother of Girl

FITCHBURG, May 22.—The police of this city and Keene, N. H., are seeking Thomas Smithers, 29, who in company with Nora Emerson, the 18 year old daughter of Mr. George Emerson of 8 Brigham street, disappeared Thursday. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Emerson received a postal card, mailed in Gardner, which read: "I have gone with Tom. When you get this we shall be on our way south."

Smithers was married to the Emerson girl Oct. 7 in Keene, N. H., and was living with her at her mother's home last April when it was discovered he had a wife living in Haverhill, N. Y. On being confronted with the facts, Smithers attempted suicide by taking chloroform.

On his recovery he was arrested and taken to Keene, N. H., where he was arraigned on the charge of bigamy. He was later admitted to bail, and Thursday came here to meet Miss Emerson.

The girl's mother said yesterday afternoon she feared that her daughter had engaged in a suicide pact with Smithers, and she feared when she next heard of her she would be dead.

PRACTICE DRILL

BY HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT-ON COMMON

The High School regiment held a drill on the South common yesterday afternoon, which was witnessed by a large number of people. The drill was held for the purpose of selecting three companies and a squad of individual drillers for the prize drills to be held at the field day, next Friday.

The purpose of this preliminary drill was to cut down the time devoted to drills at the field day exercises.

The regiment assembled at the drill shed in the afternoon and the command of Col. J. Henry Gilbride and led by the drum corps marched to the South common, where the drill took place. Lieut. Col. Calman and Major Thomas F. Markham, respectively, were in command of the first and second battalions. Each company was put through the manual by Adjutant Pullen and the men were weeded out gradually until but 18 remained, who will compete for the individual prizes at the field day.

The first battalion went through an exhibition of Butt's manual under the direction of Capt. Colby T. Kittredge.

Among those present at the drill were Percival Cyrus W. Irish, Frank W. Sherman and Frank Woodward of the faculty at the school.

At 5:30 o'clock the regiment formed in line and marched back to the drill shed, and Capt. Kittredge announced the three companies as selected by the judges. The companies chosen were those commanded by Capt. John A. Quinn, Capt. George F. Seede and Capt. George F. Kirby.

DEATH DUTIES

STRONGLY DENOUNCED BY EX-PREMIER BALFOUR

Ex-Premier Balfour again strongly denounced the death duties, saying among other things:

"Let us be careful that we don't associate democracy with robbery, an association which has never been true of any civilized modern state, and which, I hope, will never be true of this country; but it seems nearer after this budget than ever before."

SET FREE

JUDGMENT SUSPENDED IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE

WORCESTER, May 22.—Suspended judgment because he believed the case came near to being one of self-defense, Judge Edward P. Pierce gave liberty yesterday to John Garfield of Hardwick, after a jury in the superior criminal court had found him guilty of manslaughter. Garfield was charged with murder in the second degree in killing William A. Goodfield in Hardwick May 5 by stabbing him after a mix-up in a hotel barroom, where Garfield had made himself obnoxious to Goodfield and his friends.

WHITE MAN

ENTITLED TO MORE DAMAGES THAN NEGRO, SAYS COURT

NEW YORK, May 22.—A negro and a white man do not suffer equal humiliation in the eyes of the law for false arrest, according to the appellate division of the supreme court, which yesterday sustained an order of Justice Dugro of the supreme court reducing the amount of damages awarded to George Griffin, a Pullman porter, from $2500 to $500.
The negro was arrested in Montreal, charged with stealing a pocketbook, but the charge was not substantiated and he was released. He brought suit against Daniel P. Brady, a New York manufacturer, who caused his arrest, and obtained the $2500 verdict. This was set aside and the other relative to it was upheld yesterday.
Justice Dugro said that he would set aside the verdict unless Griffin would consent to its being reduced to $500. Griffin's counsel refused to accept the reduced verdict and Justice Dugro said that no such verdict as $2500 would ever stand for a moment in any court for the plaintiff.

THE MAN With a Wonderful Gift

Where Frank P. Rogers to publish the testimonials which he has received in the past few years of the "wonderful cures performed by Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy." It would require several issues of The Sun to accommodate the testimonials which Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy has achieved as a family medicine has been remarkable. Hundreds of residents of Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Manchester, and scores of other places in New England have been restored to health through this medicine and some, in case upon case, where hope had been abandoned after paying hundreds of dollars to physicians and specialists, the patient has been restored to health and happiness through Mr. Rogers' medicine.

Prepared from roots and herbs, the fact that Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy contains no harmful drugs or alcohol has been demonstrated by its popularity. Mr. Rogers has recently received a large number of testimonials from persons who have been restored to health through this medicine and some, in case upon case, where hope had been abandoned after paying hundreds of dollars to physicians and specialists, the patient has been restored to health and happiness through Mr. Rogers' medicine.

Mr. Rogers will be at the Lowell office Wednesday of each week, where he will be pleased to meet any who wish to learn of his medicine. The price of Rogers' Indian Blood Remedy is 50 cents a bottle. It has formerly been sold for 75 cents. 15 Prescott st. Up one flight.

THE COURT ORDERED A VERDICT OF SIX CENTS
NEW YORK, May 22.—After hearing the story of the sale of a photograph of Theodore Roosevelt, "sitting at his home at Oyster Bay" in an action brought by Peter A. Juley, a photographer, against the Town Topics Publishing Co., Justice Dowling in the supreme court yesterday directed a verdict of six cents for the plaintiff. Juley claimed $5000 damages, on the ground that the publishing company failed to keep an engagement with him to publish the picture in "Fads and Fancies" with his name attached to it. He sold the picture to the Town Topics Co. for $300. In directing the verdict, Justice Dowling said that the plaintiff has presented no evidence to show that he had been damaged.

INCOME TAX
AMENDMENTS TO MEASURE TO BE PRESENTED
WASHINGTON, May 22.—It was announced last night that the coalition of democratic senators and "progressive republicans" has been broken so far as the income tax question is concerned, and that amendments on that subject will be presented by both Senators Bailey and Cummins.
Both of these amendments will provide for flat rates of the tax, but they differ on some other important features particularly the proposed tax on corporations. It was stated also upon the highest authority last night, that an agreement has been reached between the finance committee and the supporters of free lumber by which the duty on dressed lumber shall not be more than 50 cents a thousand above the rate fixed on rough lumber, whatever that may be.

LENNOX, BROOKLYN THIRD SACKER, ONE OF THE FINDS OF THE SEASON

BROOKLYN, May 22.—Every year at least one or more young baseball "phenoms" break into fast company, and this season has been no exception. In fact, it has been a remarkable one for the many recruits who have come into the majors and made good. In Edgar Lennox, the Brooklyn Nationals have picked up one of those jewels, and he already is the idol of the fans. The club was lucky indeed to land this youngster, and if he continues at the fast clip he has been going, he will prove to be the Kohinoor of the "rough diamonds." Lennox's batting since he secured a regular berth at third base for the Dodgers has been sensational. He has been swinging the ball at a .430 clip all season, and the beauty of his stick work is that it has been timely. As a delfer he has shown himself remarkably apt. He covers a considerable amount of ground, can get a ball either to the right or left, and his throwing is accurate and speedy. On batted balls he has also proved his worth, and his style in tossing them to first while on the run can be compared with the best third sackers in either league.

SHORTSTOP BALL PITCHER SPARKS

Has Been Traded to the Cleverlands

Reported to be in Good Shape

CLEVELAND, May 22.—Neil Ball, whom the Cleveland Naps obtained from the New York Americans the other day, is slated to replace Terry Turner at short while the latter's lame arm is given a chance to rest. In the early part of last season Ball electrified the league with his sensational fielding and batting after Elbert Field was injured. Then he fell away in hitting and also in fielding. He mixed errors with the most brilliant plays imaginable. This spring Stallings tried Ball at second base, and he made more than good as a fielder, but his batting was too weak to warrant the berth. With two such generals as Lajoie and Bradley beside him, Ball should show at his best with Cleveland.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—Now that Frank Sparks is once more demonstrating that he is one of the star pitchers of the country, National figures that his team will about capture the much coveted banner this season. The Phillies have a wonderfully strong array of pitching talent in Moran, McQuillen, Foxen, Ritchie, Brown, Moore, ling and also in fielding. He mixed errors with the most brilliant plays imaginable. This spring Stallings tried Ball at second base, and he made more than good as a fielder, but his batting was too weak to warrant the berth. With two such generals as Lajoie and Bradley beside him, Ball should show at his best with Cleveland.

Coveleskie, Corridon and Van Dyke. All these men have proved that they are in good shape and ready to take their turn in the box. The most remarkable game that Frank Sparks ever pitched was on Aug. 24, 1908, when the Phillies and Chicago fought with a tie score for 19 innings. Sparks and Ruelbach were the opposing pitchers. Ruelbach finally winning out in the 20th.

SUNDAY BILL

HAS BEEN SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

BOSTON, May 22.—Gov. Draper has signed the bill permitting the sale of fruit on Sunday, and also the bill permitting Sunday work by license granted for each case. The pressure brought to bear upon his excellency, both for and against the bill, has been extreme. The two measures are the first radical changes toward liberal Sunday observance that have been made in many years. Repeated attempts have been made to secure less rigid Sunday laws, but the general court has met such attempts with a refusal to act.

Under the law before the signing of the bills an apple could not lawfully be sold, nor could any work be done except of necessity, charity or mercy. Now a license for Sunday work will be granted at least six days in advance by the police commission in Boston or local police officials in other cities and towns.

STUDENT DROWNED

DUNSDEN, Me., May 22.—Clyde Pelt, 21, a student in Biddeford academy, fell into Eastern river yesterday and was drowned. His body was recovered.

DRAPER MANSION

AT HOPEDALE WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE

HOPEDALE, May 22.—The neoclassical residence known as the George Otis Draper mansion, valued at $45,000, was burned last night, the cause being apparently defective electric wiring. Mrs. Ezra L. Osgood had recently purchased the property from her nephew, George Otis Draper, who is a brother of Gov. Eben S. Draper, and was having it renovated by carpenters and painters for her occupancy.

OFFICERS ELECTED

BOSTON, May 22.—An address by Miss Catherine Parsons, editor of the Wellesley College News, on the advantages of a weekly paper over a monthly publication in women's colleges was a feature of the annual meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Press Association held in this city yesterday. The following officers were elected: President, Theodore B. Griffin, Williams; vice president, Miss Catherine Parsons; secretary, James R. Everett, Dartmouth.

FLEMING FIRED

Manager Not Allowed in Ball Grounds

Manager Tom Fleming of the Lowell team, who had just got together a good team and was ready to give Lowell first class baseball, if permitted to do so, was not only released yesterday, but when he attempted to report at the grounds, under advice from his counsel, he was denied admittance.

The action of President Banwait in releasing Fleming was a complete surprise and evidently grew out of the trouble which arose between the two a few days ago, when Fleming ordered Banwait, or Winn, as he is known on the ball field, off the players' bench. Fleming claimed at that time that his contract gave him a free rein with the players on the bench and that he was not to be interfered with. When Winn started to give orders from the bench, Fleming requested him to leave. He declined, and Fleming told the umpire to order him off. The umpire requested him to leave, whereupon Winn stated that he was the manager, and not Fleming, and hence he was allowed to remain.

Several of the players met yesterday in a local lawyer's office for instructions as to their rights. Most of them came here under the impression that they were to play ball for Fleming, and they did not get all of their salary on last pay day. The players are with Fleming to a man.

Manager Fleming was instructed by his attorney to report for duty at the grounds yesterday afternoon, for the contract he has with Lowell Baseball association is still in force, not having been violated by him.

When Fleming attempted to enter the grounds yesterday it became the painful duty of his friend, Doc Edwards, to put up the bars on him. "I don't know what the trouble is, but I was ordered not to allow Tom to enter the grounds, and I obeyed the order," said Doc Edwards afterward. Fleming didn't make any protest or attempt to purchase a ticket, but simply walked away.

When seen at his hotel by a reporter last evening Mr. Fleming said: "You may say that I haven't got through with the Lowell baseball team, and also that I intend to live in Lowell for some time to come. I have a contract to manage the Lowell team this year, and I have not violated it in any way. The contract provides that I shall have a free rein, and shall have no interference in making up my team or in directing it on the ball field. I believe that we have gathered together a good team in Lowell, but results cannot be obtained with outside interference."

President Murnane of the New England league apparently is trying to keep clear of the trouble, but the other managers are protesting, as poor attendances here affect them as much as they do the local management and they dislike playing for the mere guarantee of $50 each time they come here.

Tom Bannon, who succeeds Fleming in right field, has played with Lawrence, Lynn and Brockton in the past few seasons.

FIRST DEFEAT

LAWRENCE HIGH DEFEATED LOWELL, 6-TO-2

Lawrence High defeated Lowell in a loosely played game yesterday, the occasion being Lowell's first defeat.

For Lawrence, Green was a star performer, getting three bases on balls and scoring three runs.

For Lowell, Donovan is keeping up his good work, nailing three hard ones in the left garden, and making a grand stand catch of a seeming impossible fly, nailing a man off second base, making a double play unassisted. This was the feature of the game. The score:

Lawrence.....2 1 0 0 1 0 2 0 0-6
Lowell.....0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0-2

Batteries—Yule and Perkins; Donovan and Foye. Home run—Baran. Bases on balls—By Donovan 5, by Yule 2. Struck out—By Yule 5, by Donovan 4.

FREDDY WELSH

WON A FAST BOUT WITH JACK GOODWIN

NEW YORK, May 22.—Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, easily won a fast 10 round bout with Jack Goodman of this city at the Fairmont Athletic club last night. In every one of the rounds there was no question as to his complete superiority. Welsh showed himself a clever fighter with plenty of speed and science, but his blows appeared to lack the needed strength. Owing to this alone Goodman escaped a knockout.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

HELD MEETING AT REV. MR. CRAIG'S RESIDENCE

The annual meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Craig, 3 Belmont street.

The treasurer's report showed the past year to be the best in the history of the auxiliary and prospects are looking brighter all the time. The auxiliary is out, tooth and nail, for a new Y. M. C. A. building and expects to realize a goodly sum.

Yesterday's meeting marked the close of the administration of Mrs. J. M. Craig as president, and she was presented a large cluster of beautiful pink flowers as a slight appreciation of her uniform courtesy during the seven years she has held office.

A picnic is to be held at the home of Mrs. M. E. Fletcher in West Chelsea, on June 9, to celebrate the defeat of the Blues by the Reds in the late membership contest. Those ladies who care to go should telephone or send cards to Mrs. Adelaide Folsom, 275 Appleton street, on or before Wednesday, June 2.

The new list of officers follows: President, Mrs. F. K. Stearns; first vice president, Mrs. B. C. Day; second vice president, Mrs. Russell Fox; treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Woodman; recording secretary, Mrs. C. O. S. Wheeler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Burton Kinney.

After adjournment refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Roy, Mrs. Milo D. Clay, Mrs. Herbert Trull, Mrs. Stanley Chrysler and Mrs. Harry McGuire.

CELEBRATING DEFEAT

VIENNA, May 22.—Festivities in celebration of the centenary of Napoleon's first defeat, when the Austrians under Archduke Charles gained a victory over him at Aspern May 21 and 22, 1809, began here yesterday. Emperor Francis Joseph and ministers of the imperial house delivered speeches.

Life is Now Worth Living

Every woman who has suffered from diseases peculiar to women can fully appreciate Mrs. Erickson's condition, and can understand why she is anxious that other women should know of DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT & RYE.

Notwithstanding the hurry and bustle of life I am not unmindful of the great blessing DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT & RYE has brought to me, and I now thank DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT & RYE for it all. DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT & RYE has done for me what I thought never could be done, and it has restored my health to perfection. I can now eat anything.

Life is now worth living, and I am so glad because I feel so well. I recommend DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT & RYE to every sick person, so that all may be well, and it is on liberal terms that they may try it and be convinced as to what it will do for them. I shall never cease to sound its praise for what it has done for me. I have taken but seven bottles. Of course, I will never be without a bottle of it in the house if I can help it.

You may publish this testimonial in the strongest terms you can find, for I know of no language that is strong enough to express my gratitude to DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT & RYE.

Respectfully yours,

MRS. H. ERICKSON,

1007 Gorham St., Lowell, Mass.

SLEUTH WHO EXPOSED FRISCO GRAFT

NEW YORK, May 22.—A story that Wm. J. Burns, the shrewd detective who uncovered the San Francisco graft scandals, is working along a similar line in New York city has caused no end of uneasiness in certain official circles in the metropolis. Burns paid a sudden and mysterious visit to Police Commissioner Bingham in response, it is said, to a summons from that official, and the report quickly spread that there was to be a graft sensation forthcoming. It has long been the contention of Commissioner Bingham that outside men who were either unknown or unfriendly to the New York detectives were needed to stamp out police corruption. Burns is regarded as the ablest man in his line in the United States, and it would not be surprising if he developed a sensation in New York.

THEATRE VOYONS
Today will be the last of the showing of the greatest American picture of the month, "The Jilt" at Theatre Voyons. A quartet of such good singers as is at the Theatre Voyons is a big attraction in itself and when three songs are sung illustrated in the most pleasing manner and the orchestral music is the very best but little more can be offered in regard to that part of the program. Monday a complete change of bill will be made and new songs and pictures given.

THOMAS J. AKINS
Named as Postmaster of St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, MAY 22.—The appointment of Thomas J. Akins to be postmaster at St. Louis is the first change made in a big postmastership since the inauguration of the Taft administration. Mr. Akins will take his new post on June 1. He is now assistant United States treasurer at St. Louis. For many years he was chairman of the Missouri republican state committee and since 1904 has been republican national committeeman from Missouri. He formerly was in the banking business at Humansville, Mo.

STRIKE ENDED
LEADERS BLAME EACH OTHER FOR FAILURE

PARIS, May 22.—The curtain was rung down yesterday upon the general strike, amid recriminations by the leaders, who tried to throw the responsibility for the failure upon each other and the defeated postal employees. The end came when a few hundred laborers voted to resume work. The General Federation of Labor then threw up the sponge and issued a manifesto in which they seek to cover up their defeat, explaining that the postal employees were over-optimistic of the success of their second strike, "which everything shows was pre-arranged and instigated by the government, which was desirous of an opportunity for avenging itself against the leaders of the first strike."

Second Night of Affair in Aid
of Day Nursery

The second night of the May festival in aid of the Day Nursery, which was last night, was even a greater success than was the opening night. The entertainment was all that could be desired and there were few idle seats in the hall. The entertainment was followed by general dancing and the bazaar tables, which extend for the entire length of the galleries, were well patronized.

There was a whist tournament yesterday afternoon, managed by Miss Grace Cummock. There were 25 tables in all. The prizes were awarded as follows:

Bridge, first, Mrs. C. B. Redway; second, Miss Molloy; consolation,

Mrs. Swan; straight whist, first, Mrs. George Caliss; second, Mrs. Pierre L. Brousseau; consolation, Miss Bailey. The prizes were given by D. J. King, George L. Motley, Frank Hanchett and Arthur D. Prince.

The evening entertainment, under the direction of Miss Josephine M. Ockington, opened with a Spanish dance by Miss Mildred Tinker, and it was prettily executed.

The Misses Ruth Emerson, Miriam Warren, Florence Chapman and Marjorie Armstrong appeared in a Greek garland dance and it was most gracefully given. Clever little Mildred Bean, five years old, was the "Animated Doll," and she danced like a fairy.

The Irish jig, handsomely costumed, was a rattling good number, which was given with snap and spirit. Those who took part were: Douglas Buchanan, Bernice Russell, Marion McEvoy, Howard Robinson, Kathleen Stanley, Mabel Savage, William Atwood, Dorothy Coburn, Lillian Abbott.

Another hit was the Pickaninnyes, who were gorgeously dressed black children who did a regular Southern breakdown. They were: George Chapman, Della Parkhurst, Winslow George, Vivian Barbour, Herbert Rose, Dorothy Emerson, Morton Pickard, Esther Whitman.

Miss Hazel Chamberlain did an original Pierrot number, and was the jest in the jolly dance, a lively and animated specialty that introduced Misses Mildred Beale, Mildred Akers, Jane Fleming, Gladys Parsons, Margaret Clifton, Pauline Cunningham.

At one time the stage was entirely filled with Scotch Highlanders. They were:

Master Warren Pickard, Misses Geraldine Barbour and Della Parkhurst, Master Elmer Hill, Misses Dorothy Bean and Josephine Higgins, Master George Chapman, Misses Dorothy Emerson and Pauline Worde, Master Ray Richard, Misses Esther Whitman and Dorothy Hall.

Miss Estlin Mulgrave, in pretty costume, gave her Oriental dance and Baby Chaloux and Francis Calnin pleased with their song "Meet Me in Rose Time." Master Willie Davis gave a capital imitation of Harry Lauder.

Then the program concluded with a highly original number, two Greek national dances by four men from the Greek colony in their native dress. Their own musicians furnished music for them.

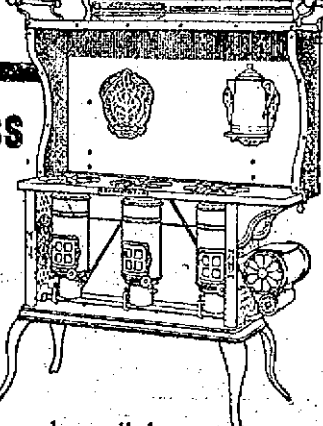

Tonight a special drill will be given by the high school girls, and the officers of the school regiment will manage the dancing.

MRS. TAFT COMING

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Mrs. Taft will probably leave for the "Summer Capital" at Beverly, Mass., early in June, it was announced yesterday, if it appears that the president is detained in Washington by the tariff until after July 1.

Does Your Hair
Get Full of Dust
When You Ride
In An Automobile?

Much of the dust and dirt stirred up by automobiles settles upon the hair and scalp of those who ride in them. At the end of every trip an automobilist's hair needs to be thoroughly washed, but the common mistake of using common soap ought to be avoided. Common soap contains too much alkali and robs the hair and scalp of their natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and dry and the scalp rough. If the hair be washed often with soaps containing excess alkali, it is only a question of time until the hair begins to fall out. People who ride in automobiles, as well as those who don't, are strongly urged to try Bird's Head Wash for cleaning the hair and scalp. This is as good a preparation as present-day science can produce. It is made of Refined Soap, Castile Soap, Olive Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid. No other ingredient is used. Any doctor, druggist or scientist who knows anything about a proper cleanser for the hair will tell you there are no better ingredients known. You can use Bird's Head Wash every day, and your hair will improve and grow naturally. It is of great benefit in such troubles as Dandruff, Itching Scalp and Falling Hair. Bird's Head Wash has wonderful cleansing properties. Wash your hair with soap or shampoo as hard as you please, and then wash it again with Bird's Head Wash, and you will be astonished how much more dirt and dust will be taken from your head. There is no secret about this preparation, so no one need hesitate about trying it. Why use secret recipes and frauds on your hair, when you can use Bird's Head Wash and know exactly what it is made of? Price 50c.
